ABSTRACT

This reading program theme deals with mysteries in their broadest sense. The mystery theme is not limited to who-done-its although they are a place to start. The library is full of solutions to other kinds of mysteries. Craft and program ideas, clip art, press releases, a planning time line, and calendars were developed to assist in the implementation of a reading program. Sections of the guide include: goals, objectives, and evaluation; getting started; common program structures; planning timeline; publicity and promotion; awards and incentives; parents/family involvement; program ideas; programs for young adults; crafts; bibliographies; resources; displays and decorations; and special needs. The majority of program ideas and activities are intended for preschool children through grade 4. The following miscellaneous forms are provided: evaluation; activity sheet answers (in English and Spanish); clip art; 1994 Arizona Reading Program Certificate; supplemental sheet for reading logs; and zoo passes. A list of the previous reading program themes from the past 15 years is also provided. (MAS)

Dear Colleague:

As you know, many mysteries can be solved at the library, both the fictional and the factual types.

In this vein, our Children and Youth Services Librarians throughout the state have done a wonderful job of developing the 1994 Arizona Reading Program theme: GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY. They have gone far beyond the detective stories that might first come to mind. We know you will be delighted with the ideas in this Reading Program manual.

At the request of a number of Children's Service Librarians, we have made the manual available at an earlier date than in past years. The purpose is, of course, to give you more time to plan and prepare your program for the summer of 1994. We plan to continue this publication schedule in the future, and hope it will better serve your needs.

The 1994 Arizona Reading Program: GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY can lead to so many discoveries. We hope that your Reading Program will start many new detectives ranging about library stacks in search of the answers to their learning quests.

Sincerely,

Arlene Bansal

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY      INTRODUCTORY MATERIALS

THIS MANUAL IS DEDICATED TO

SHARON G. WOMACK

DIRECTOR,

DEPARTMENT OF LIBRARY, ARCHIVES AND PUBLIC RECORDS,

1979-1993

Sharon's love for children and books

met in the development of the Arizona Reading Program.

Welcome to the 1994 Arizona Reading Program - GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY. As with all of our themes recently, GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY was selected by children and librarians across the state.

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY is a theme that deals with mysteries in their broadest sense. We discovered, in working with this theme, we are not limited to who-done-its, although they are a wonderful place to start. The library is full of solutions to other kinds of mysteries. AND THIS IS WHERE THE FUN BEGINS.

The Arizona Reading Committee and the staff of the Department of Library, Archives and Public Records, encourage you to set up a Reading Program this year. We have tried to make it as simple as possible, and have incorporated a broad range of topics in this manual. We know there will be something appealing to you.

You will be doing a wonderful service to your community by fostering the reading and study skills of children during the summer. And you will be introducing these children to the wonders and mysteries accessible as close as their library.

Take a peek at some of the crafts and program ideas within. It doesn't take much effort to put some of these ideas to work. Clip art and press releases adapted to this year's theme have already been prepared for you. A planning time line and calendars will help you lay out more complicated programs.

Good luck with your program!

The 1994 Reading Program Manual, GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY, is the result of the hard work of 12 dedicated and creative librarians, the members of the Arizona Reading Program Committee. They have devoted uncounted volunteer hours (above and beyond the duties of their regular work day) to writing large sections of this manual. They have worked at a furious pace to get this manual to you nearly 4 months earlier than in years past.

I wish to thank the members of my committee wholeheartedly:

Louisa Akins	Maricopa County Library District
Elizabeth Burks	Apache Junction Public Library
Anne Caltabiano	Glendale Public Library
Carol Damaso	Mustang Branch Library
Mary Dubno	Chandler Public Library
Nancy Foster	Pima Public Library
Rosmarie Jarvis	Gilbert Public Library
Deborah Kearns	Cottonwood Public Library
Pauline Kodman	Mesa Public Library
Peg McCullough	AZ State Schools for the Deaf & Blind
Rebecca Oliver	Clifton-Greenlee County Public Library
Nancy Palmer	Flagstaff City-Coconino County Public Library
Cheryl Richardson	Yavapai County Library District
Diane Tuccillo	Mesa Public Library
Sherry Warren	Tempe Public Library

Other librarians and library volunteers behind the scenes, contributed ideas and work to the crafts, activity sheets and programs. I would also like to thank:

Frances Aronson	Maricopa Community Library
Marilyn Brooks	Cottonwood Public Library
Beverly Burritt	Pinal County Library District
Jane Carroll	Gilbert Public Library
Elva Davies	Apache Junction Public Library
Linda Harper	Glendale Public Library
Kate Havris	Mesa Public Library
Raquel Montano	Maricopa County Library District
Kelly Murphy	Maricopa County Library District
Carol Sanchez	Library Extension Division
Lynn Taylor	Cottonwood Public Library
Wilhelmina Tysoe	Clifton-Greenlee County Public Library
Elsie Valdez	Chandler Public Library

and all the other members of the Children's Staff at Mesa Public.

All of these people deserve much credit for the creative ideas centering around this year's theme and for developing these ideas into exciting programs, crafts, displays, and activities. Librarians all over the state will benefit from their labors. Please take a moment to thank them personally, when you see them.

My thanks also to Deborah Tasnadi, who developed the previous editions of the Arizona Reading Program Manual. She contributed help, advice, and experience to the current edition of the manual, not to mention having created such a well organized and effective piece of work over the past years.

I would like to thank Arlene Bansal and Tony Miele for their support. And of course, our wonderful and cheerful staff who brought this final version together: Phyllis Carter and Jean Yeary. Finally, thanks too, to my "behind the scenes" editor, who wishes to remain anonymous.

If I have failed to mention anyone, please accept my apologies. I will be the first to recognize the joint efforts which make this manual possible.

Alex Shelley was a high school senior at Mesa's Westwood High School when he designed the poster for the 1994 Arizona Reading Program. Mr. Shelley competed with many other individuals, including professional graphic artists, in the design contest for the poster. We were pleased to select his work as the most outstanding representation of our theme: GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY.

During his senior year at Westwood High School, Alex Shelley studied art. He entered and won numerous art contests during his high school years, including first place in Mesa's Young at Art contest, a first premium at the 1990 Arizona State Fair, and Exceptional Merit premiums at the 1991 and 1992 State Fairs. He also won a Certificate of Merit at the Arizona Regional Exhibition at the Museum at Northern Arizona University, and Blue Ribbon finalist in the National Scholastic Art Competition, among others.

Besides his interest in the arts, Shelley was a member of the school's cross country team. He won two State Championships in cross country and two State Championships in the 3200 meter event. During his schooling, he maintained a 3.6 grade point average, and was a member of the National Honor Society.

Last spring he accepted an appointment to the Naval Academy Preparatory School in Newport, Rhode Island, to further his education. There, he is studying in a liberal arts curriculum, and he has become the number one man on the cross country team. He was recently named by USA Today to the "All US Track Team".

Next year, he will enter the Naval Academy where he will be an English major. He has stated that his ambition is to be a writer. He already has had several works published in magazines.

Shelley says that although his interests do change, he will always love the art of cartooning.

Arizona has had successful reading programs for over fifteen years. Many children have enjoyed the following themes which have been used statewide:

- 1974 "Monster Zoo"
- 1975 "Arizona Round-Up"
- 1976 "Our Country"
- 1977 "Wizard Of Oz"
- 1978 "Star Ship To Adventure"
- 1979 "Open The Elfin Doors"
- 1980 "Ready, Set, Go!"
- 1981 "Stake Your Claim"
- 1982 "Lions & Tigers & Books"
- 1983 "Bone Up On Books Be A Bookasaurus"
- 1984 "Your Own Adventure"
- 1985 "Bite Into Books"
- 1986 "Unlock Your Universe With Books"
- 1987 "Sakes Alive--We're--75"
- 1988 "Time Travel--You Are There"
- 1989 "Books Give Us Wings"
- 1990 "Have Books Will Travel"
- 1991 "Read Arizona"
- 1992 "Rainbow Earth"
- 1993 "Libraries: The Greatest Show on Earth"
- 1994 "Get A Clue At The Library"

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY GOALS, OBJECTIVES AND EVALUATION

GOALS, OBJECTIVES AND EVALUATION

Goals

Goals are general statements of mission or purpose. Written goals for the library guide the staff in determining the philosophy of the library and the role of the library in the community. Goals serve as tools for planning the directions of all library activities. Therefore, if the library has no written goals, they should write some. Since children's services are unique and require special consideration, the general library goals should specifically include children's services.

Individual programs have written goals. Consider the library's general goals when writing program goals. Program goals help the programmer to coordinate a specific activity with the library's overall goals and to set priorities for service. Program goals may also justify staff time and budget distribution. Goals for a Reading Program should answer the question, "Why have a Reading Program?"

Objectives

After determining the goals, develop the objectives. Objectives are specific, measurable statements that show how the goals will be achieved. When forming objectives, you must think ahead to the evaluation. Since the evaluation will try to determine if the objectives have been met, the objectives must be measurable and within the possibility of the library staff. For example, an objective may read, "Children participating in the Reading Program will maintain or improve their reading levels during the summer months." That sounds like a good objective and one that would be worthy to achieve. However, unless you take steps to test each child before and after the Reading Program, it will be impossible to determine if this objective has been met.

The objectives that will be easiest to evaluate and compare from year to year are the ones that require counting and/or calculation. Objectives may include statistics such as program registration, number of children who completed their requirements for the program, circulation of juvenile materials, or numbers registered from each grade and from each school. These numbers compared to the previous year's statistics are saved to compare with the following year's. To determine what percentage of children from each grade in each school participated in the program, use these statistics. Several day's circulation figures can be compared with several similar days from the previous year using care to assure samples are statistically valid. To maintain or improve any or all of these statistics, write objectives.

Setting Priorities

After goals for the overall program have been determined, write objectives for each phase of the program. The Reading Program may be long and complex, so before the planning begins set priorities. This is especially important if the library has limited staff and resources. Take into account the following when setting the priorities for your program: advance planning, publicity, incentives and rewards, follow-up activities, and any other items that you feel are an integral part of your program.

Examples

Following are examples of three general goals for a Reading Program, objectives relating to them, and possible strategies to implement the objectives:

GOAL 1.

THE READING PROGRAM WILL ENCOURAGE CHILDREN TO READ DURING THE SUMMER.

OBJECTIVES:

- A. Increase Reading Program registration by 5% over last year's.
- B. Include book talks and bibliographies in 10 Reading Program activities.
- C. Increase circulation of the children's collection during the Reading Program by 10% as compared with the circulation statistics from the previous year.

STRATEGY 1.

Plan several months in advance to design or use a Reading Program with a popular theme. Develop publicity fliers, worksheets, membership cards, and certificates that are attractive and well done.

STRATEGY 2.

Distribute Reading Program materials as widely as possible. Publicize the Reading Program with fliers and posters. Visit schools and organizations to promote the program. Use the local media to publicize the program.

GOAL 2.

THE READING PROGRAM WILL ENCOURAGE CHILDREN TO READ MORE WIDELY BY SUGGESTING A VARIETY OF BOOKS FROM DIFFERENT SUBJECTS.

OBJECTIVES:

- A. 50% of Reading Program participants will read nonfiction as well as fiction books.
- B. Increase circulation of juvenile literature by 10%.

STRATEGY 1.

Require that the participants read a certain number of specific types of books.

STRATEGY 2.

Create and distribute specific subject area bibliographies: lists of nonfiction and fiction books that relate to this year's theme.

STRATEGY 3.

Use a game format such as Book Bingo or Random Choice, library maps or reading guides so that children must read a variety of subject areas to complete the requirements.

GOAL 3.

ENCOURAGE READING ALOUD AT HOME BY DEVELOPING A PRESCHOOL AGE READING PROGRAM COMPARABLE TO THE SCHOOL AGE READING PROGRAM.

OBJECTIVES:

- A. 25% of the preschool population will register for the Read-To-Me program.
- B. 75% of the preschoolers attending story-time will be enrolled in the Read-To-Me program.

STRATEGY 1.

Plan several months in advance to design a Read-To-Me program. Develop colorful, attractive and well produced fliers, membership cards, and certificates.

STRATEGY 2.

Advertise the Read-To-Me program to the parents of storytime participants and preschoolers. Use the media to promote the program. Distribute fliers in the library and in the community.

REMEMBER: It is important to choose goals appropriate to your library—those that reflect community needs and the overall goals of the library. Any staff involved with children's services, as well as the library director, should participate in their development. If time and money are not available to work toward achieving all goals, pick the most important ones and work toward them.

Evaluation

Evaluation is the final step of any program and the beginning step for the next one. Evaluation helps to refine or develop goals based on reality. Your objectives determine the areas to be evaluated. The following list will give some suggestions for areas to evaluate and should be considered when formulating goals and objectives.

SUGGESTED AREAS OF EVALUATION

1. CIRCULATION STATISTICS: Tabulate juvenile circulation statistics separately from the adult circulation statistics. This will enable you to determine if the Reading Program has increased juvenile circulation, and it will enable you to compare circulation figures from year to year.
2. CHANGES IN SUBJECT AREAS READ: Changes can be the result of the effectiveness of book talks, bibliographies or games used.
3. TOTAL NUMBER OF READING PARTICIPANTS: This can measure the impact of publicity, school visits and program format.

Opinions vary among librarians as to the structure and formats of reading programs. Some libraries present a highly structured Reading Program during the summer; some have no formal structure at all; and most fall somewhere between these two extremes.

For instance, one library discovered that having a required reading list and requiring that a minimum number of books be read. This turned off the children in their program to the point that only 45% finished the program and received certificates. However, the children still seemed to enjoy the oral report's portion of their program, so the library changed the program to a contract system. They changed the oral reports to a group sharing situation in which one or two children shared, with others in a group, a book they had recently read.

Another library totally abandoned any type of structured program and just provided various activities in which the children could freely participate.

A third library was very successful with a formal structured program in which the children were required to read a certain number of books to receive a certificate. These varied program philosophies appear to result from the reasons why librarians do a Reading Program. To find out why you must first review your philosophy of programming, and in particular your philosophy on Reading Programs.

When you have reviewed your philosophies, ideas, and experiences, consider the following items that may also affect your program:

Facilities

- A. What amount of space is available and for what size group?
- B. Will the excessive noise level disturb other patrons using the library or is a separate room available for busy activities?
- C. Is there a play area available for outdoor activities? Is a local park available for opening or closing parties?
- D. The program has how much time each week, or on what time basis will the group meet?
- E. Decorations and displays put up in the area, what kind?

Staff

- A. How large is the staff?
- B. Regular or volunteer staff does it increase or decrease in size during the summer months? Are 5th, 6th, or 7th graders used as volunteer helpers for your program?
- C. How much time does staff and volunteers have to participate in the program? Or, are they needed in more critical areas? Is it a key time for staff vacations?
- D. Can parents of participants help with activities or perhaps provide refreshments?
- E. What special talents can staff and volunteers contribute to the program? (i.e., musical, arts & crafts, and drama)

Participants

- A. The program accommodates how many children?
- B. Will there be any age limitations?
- C. Participants broken up into groups based upon age, reading skills, grade level, or do they participate as one large group?
- D. Will a Read-to-Me program for pre-schoolers be offered?

Collection

- A. Does the library need to purchase materials from the bibliography to supplement the collection?
- B. Bibliographies printed for the participants as supplemental handouts to the program?

Scheduling

- A. Decide when and how registration for the program will begin in the library.
- B. Contact local newspapers, radio stations, and possible television stations to find out what their deadlines are for publicity.
- C. What kind of school visit, if any, will there be? (i.e., thematic skit given, book talks, handout flyers or a short narrative on the program?)
- D. Alert all other library staff as to the dates of the programs and the special events.

Budget

- A. What arts and craft supplies do you have?
- B. Does your budget limit the amount of supplies that can be purchased for certain activities?
- C. Participants asked to provide their own supplies for certain activities to what extent?
- D. Will it be necessary to purchase additional promotional materials to that which the state sends?
- E. Is it necessary to ask for additional money for performer's fees, overhead costs -- rental space, or additional publicity -- flyers?
- F. Is it possible to have a fundraising project to add to the available revenue for the program?

Miscellaneous

- A. Can field trips be planned and executed?
- B. How can you use guest speakers, musicians, artists, and story tellers in your program?
- C. What kind of support might you obtain from various merchants and civic groups for the program?
- D. Has anyone else developed an activity or idea that had great success that could be used in the program?

Questions like these, along with an understanding of your personal interests and philosophy and the particular needs of your community, will help build the foundation on which the structure of your Reading Program will be based.

Structured Programs

This format allows the librarian more control over the participants reading. It requires a larger staff and a larger collection of material.

1. Set age limits for children participating.

It is desirable to offer something for all age groups. If you only have time for one program, then try to reach an age group not normally served during the rest of the year. For example, if there is a storytime during the winter for pre-schoolers, offer something for school age children during the summer.

2. Determine the number of books children must read to get a certificate.

Try not to set the requirement so high that it will discourage children from reading or encourage "cheating" by way of reading below their level. It is important to remember that the slow reader, the learning disadvantaged and the handicapped child needs to feel that they belong. If you decide you want to require a certain number of books to be read by the participants, keep the number within a reasonable limit. Determine the length of your program and the average reading ability among your patrons. Make special provision for those children who are poor or non-readers to earn a certificate in some other way.

3. Create required reading lists.

Compile a list of books that reflect the theme of the Arizona Reading Program.

4. Avoid competitive programs.

If a library's main thrust is to reward the child who reads the most books, then the interest of the poor reader is lost. It is as great an accomplishment if the slow reader gets through one or two books as it is if the bookworm gets through 50 to 100.

5. Encourage oral or written reports.

Oral reports give the librarian and the child time to discuss books and gives the librarian an opportunity to determine in which direction to guide the child in future reading. Written reports stimulate the thinking and writing skills of the child.

NOTE: Be careful not to exclude any child because of handicap, reading ability, noncompetitive attitude or even part-time status in the program.

Nonstructured Programs

This format works best for small libraries with limited staff or volunteer resources. It is marvelous for the child who is looking for a non-classroom type summer activity.

1. Any child may participate.
2. There is no required reading list or minimum number of reports.

Design displays and special interest lists, but allow children to choose their own books from the library collection.

Any child who has participated to the extent of reading at least one book or participated in one activity may receive a certificate.

3. Children keep their own reading records for personal satisfaction.
4. If the child moves or goes on vacation to another part of the state and the local library there has a summer reading program, the child may continue the program with them.

Contracts or Individual Goal Setting

1. Do not require a minimum or maximum number of books to be read.
2. Children set personal goals of how many books to read.
3. Draw up individual contracts between the children and the librarian delineating the agreed goal.
4. Sign contracts before beginning the program or when the children read their first books.
5. Do not quiz children on the books they have read.
6. Make no restrictions on the type of literature to be read. Encourage children to read at or above their current reading level.

Read-To-Me Programs

Although Summer Reading Programs have traditionally been directed at children who have learned to read, in recent years many libraries have also offered Read-To-Me programs for preschool children. Offer these in conjunction with the Summer Reading Program using the same or a different theme or at a different time of the year as a separate promotional activity.

A Read-To-Me program involves parents and children reading together. Children get credit for each book read to them. Award a certificate or other small prize upon completion of a certain number of books. The library may issue reading records and/or have a bulletin board or display where children keep track of the number of books read.

The Read-To-Me program can be an excellent activity to implement with groups of preschoolers who attend story hour in the library or whom the librarian visits at a child care center. Center staff could introduce the program to parents and encourage them to join and use the library to complete the program. The library and center could give a joint certificate. This could be a good way to reach those parents who may not read to their children or be regular library users.

On the following pages are two lists of tips for parents. You may wish to photocopy them and provide them to parents when they register their children for the Reading Program

A Word (or 2) For Parents How to Read Aloud With Your Child

1. PLAN AHEAD. Choose a time when there will not be interruptions; if possible have a regular time each day.
2. SELECT A QUIET, COMFORTABLE PLACE. Sit so your child can see the pictures easily-- on your lap or near you.
3. SELECT SEVERAL BOOKS ahead of time that you think he/she will enjoy; read through them, yourself before sharing them so you can read smoothly.
4. TRY TO READ IN A NATURAL VOICE that's soft, low and interested.
5. BEGIN WITH THE FAMILIAR such as Mother Goose, finger plays, songs, poems, etc.
6. PAUSE AT INTERVALS. This gives your child a chance to react to the story and the illustrations.
7. RESPECT YOUR CHILD'S MOOD Boredom or restlessness perhaps indicate the book or time isn't right. If he/she doesn't want to discuss the pictures, don't step-up the pace. Your child may want to turn several pages to finish more quickly. Let her/him.

DOs

Take advantage of your child's interests, e.g., dinosaurs, trucks, etc.

Keep books around even if he/she shows little interest in them right now.

Ask questions as you read.

Encourage your child to make up his/her own stories to go with the pictures.

As your child reaches school age, begin to include longer stories that can be read one episode or chapter at a time. Graham's The Wind in the Willows.

DON'TS

Use story time to teach reading.

Compare your child to another who loves reading.

Be surprised if your child wants to hear the same book repeatedly. The high interest and repetition will be good for him/her.

Basic Guidelines For Selecting Material To Read Aloud

1. You must like the story. You are more likely to draw an emotional reaction, if you are involved with the story yourself.
2. Books well written have vivid characterization and the pace is fairly fast—more action, and less description.
3. Five to ten minutes may be plenty of time to read to your child, because most pre-schoolers have short attention spans.
4. The real test of a good book is its ability to give pleasure to both parent and child. Listening provides natural opportunities for development of vocabulary and an acquaintance with English syntax.

MOST IMPORTANTLY, you help your child to know good books and poems in a relaxed, warm atmosphere.

4 -5 Months Prior to Beginning of Summer

1. Review the manual thoroughly. Read over the activity sheets to plan for required materials.
2. Choose dates, structure and procedures of the program.
3. Check State Library Reading Program materials request form to be sure an accurate number of items has been ordered.
4. Create a calendar for tentative scheduling of programs.
5. Look for local talent and volunteers. Staff and patrons may have special talents and interests to share.
6. Order books to enrich the theme and order any media for programs. Check bibliography against holdings. Consider paperbacks to supplement where needed.
7. Send letters to Friends of the Library and community organizations asking for donations.

2-3 Months Prior to Summer

1. Finalize program schedules. Plan alternate programs in case of cancellations.
2. Confirm films, performers and craft dates. You may want to "kid test" crafts.
3. Order material for crafts.
4. Check AV equipment and repair as necessary. Buy extra lamps.
5. Prepare flyers with information about the program. Distribute to children and parents at schools and at the circulation desk.
6. Prepare bulletin board materials.
7. Prepare needed materials for volunteers.
8. Send letters to Friends of the Library and community organizations asking for volunteer helpers.

1 Month Prior to Beginning of Summer

1. Place posters in the community and in the library.
2. Visit newspapers, radio and TV stations to explain your publicity needs and take your first press release. This approach is advisable only in smaller communities.
3. Arrange and make school visits. Do not forget private and church schools in the area. It may be necessary to concentrate on certain grades due to time limitations. Distribute flyers during your visits and ask to have notices put in the school's last newsletter or in flyers sent home with report cards. Remember the parent groups or organizations like Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and day care groups in your community.

2-3 Weeks Prior to Summer

1. Have staff meetings about the programs planned and pass out schedules.
2. Begin decorating the library.
3. Make packets for registration. Try to include reading records, schedule of events and membership cards.

Remember to write these schedules and events on the calendar. How many weeks will the Reading Program run? What day will you clear school visits with the principal and the librarians of each school? When does school end? What are the other events in town? (For example when does the pool open, camps begin, or little leagues have play-offs?) When will registration for the library reading program begin? End? What are the print deadlines for local school newspapers, community newspapers, church bulletins, community or civic club newsletters? When will you put up posters in the schools, in the community? What days will you have special activities? Will there be a special opening event and closing celebration? What is the staffs' vacation schedule? Will you have an orientation for staff, volunteers and friends group?

When you have developed your timeline and finish as many of the reading programs dates as possible, publicize them in your opening announcements. Be sure everyone knows about the events happening in the library, so other activities won't be scheduled that will compete with the library. It is a good idea to include a list of activities in newspaper publicity throughout the reading program to remind other program planners of your schedule.*

Preparing Printed Matter*

Face-to-face public relations and promotion for specific programs are a much easier job when accompanied by something tangible to hand out. Printed matter always helps underscore the message and leave a physical reminder of the program. Publicity pieces for the Arizona Reading Program can be as simple as a bookmark or flier. Reproduction by a quick printer for large quantities or a good copier for smaller needs is inexpensive.

The clip art for the Arizona Reading Program is yours to adapt and use however you like. Reduce it, enlarge it, reposition it, cut it up, color it, whatever.

Use a variety of techniques to prepare professional-looking custom information on printed matter. If you have access to a copier that reduces and enlarges, transform simple typewritten copy into a larger, bolder version, ready to paste-up in a layout.

Art or graphic supply stores, and quite a few stationers, carry a wide variety of "rub-on" lettering. One or two sheets of lettering should be enough to see you through all your printed pieces. It is relatively easy to use the letters. Suggestion: apply the letter to a separate sheet of white paper, then cut the set type out and past it to the layout. Set type line-by-line, cutting out and placing each line of type individually in relation to the other lines of type. This technique prevents tragic and unsightly placement of letters directly on a layout, and lets you play with your arrangement a little before you commit it to glue.

Professional typesetting is not terribly expensive. Take just a few headlines, your library's name, address, the pertinent facts of your program to be set, and then photocopy the additional copies and sizes you need at the library. Nearly any mechanical means of typesetting, including typewriter copy, looks more professional than hand-done lettering. UNLESS YOU'RE A WHIZ CALLIGRAPHER, RESIST THE TEMPTATION TO HAND-LETTER!

The Importance of an Information Form

When you solicit monetary support for your program, be it in kind support, museum passes, ice cream coupons or a feature story in the newspaper, include a business-like fact sheet in addition to your printed publicity pieces. The fact sheet should include:

- the purpose of the Reading Program
- who will be involved in the program, and how participants will benefit
- dates, times, and locations
- this year's theme
- special plans for the summer
- what kind of help the library needs
- who to contact at the library for more information

* Adapted with permission from the Tennessee State Library and Archives Cool Cats/Hot Books Summer Reading Program Manual, ©1989.

- past programs and themes
- statistics from previous years

Having a background sheet that includes details lets potential sponsors, helpers and reporters know that you're serious and organized about your program. It can save much time for you in terms of answering philosophical questions or explaining the reasons for the program.

Person to Person Contact

Nothing makes people more likely to come to the library than a personal invitation. Failing a personal invitation, a judiciously posted flier can work wonders. If you can possibly spare the time to get out in the community, you'll find that your efforts are worth it. Arm yourself with bookmarks and visit the classrooms to talk with kids. If you can't spare the time, use the mail! Write a peppy cover letter and mail bookmarks to the school principal for distribution to the students. Ask to speak to PTA groups and for announcement space in their newsletters. Catch kids and parents where they are: send library staff home with fliers to post at their neighborhood stores. Take a pile of bookmarks to your local bookstore and ask them to give bookmarks out with purchases. Call upon all those organizations who post notices at the library to post notices for you, or to mention your program in their newsletters. Freely mail your information to any adult who seems interested, and of course, use it if you're soliciting goods or money.

Perhaps the best public relations you do at the library itself are promoting the programs to the parents and children who use the library. These are the most likely candidates for your program. Inform your staff of every last detail of the Arizona Reading Program and spend several weeks hitting up everybody who walks through the door with Arizona Reading Program information and encouragement. Post fliers and posters generously around the library—and put your reading sign-up station in a conspicuous spot. Create a splashy display. Post the kids' names as they join. Attract attention and encourage questions.

Handling the Media

The library has many allies in the community, and media people are among them. Don't be shy about asking for coverage. Assume you're on friendly ground and tell your story around!

Newspaper Features

Newspaper stories are wonderful program packers. No other medium allows you so much time and space to tell your story. You can usually get in all your nitty-gritty details and still have time to philosophize about the greater meaning of the Arizona Reading Program. Drop off a packet of information materials (your information form and other pertinent pieces) to the newspaper. With a small community newspaper, call the editor and talk about doing a feature article. Include a news release, written in narrative form, that explains your program briefly.

Double space your news release, and begin typing your copy on the lower half of the page, continuing your narrative on succeeding pages, if necessary. It is best to keep to one page and add a fact sheet. This spacing allows room for editorial comments, notes, and other comments.

Make it clear in a cover letter that the materials are adaptable, and that the paper is free to use them in any way they see fit. Many community papers will use your writing verbatim; other will adapt the writing or write their own feature articles. Make it easy for paper people to find you or your contact person for interviews or to answer questions. Many papers are glad for you to come in and talk to them personally; find out on the phone what they prefer. If your paper gives you a feature story on the Reading Program at the beginning of the summer, ask them then about doing a follow-up story at the end of the summer. How programs turn out interests most newspapers.

Whenever possible, include a photograph with your press release. Photos are always more eye-catching than just text, and editors love them because photos of local people (especially kids) sell papers! Send clear black-and-white pictures.

Radio Public Service Announcements

Never underestimate the power of the radio. People listen. All radio stations, to maintain their broadcast licenses, are obligated to run public service announcements (PSAs) regularly, free of charge to community organizations. Most are more than happy to receive PSAs and graciously give good airplay to them. Most stations would prefer to receive a typed PSA that announcers can read off the cuff at various intervals instead of a produced, taped spot that they must plan to use. Ask the station for a taped or live on-air interview about your program. If interviews are featured regularly on your station, you might just want to pursue this. All you need to do to get a PSA on the air is to mail it in. Call the station's switchboard to find out the name of the Public Service Director and mail your announcement to that person. A simple cover letter requesting support for the program assures air-time. A few rules of thumb govern the writing of PSAs:

Always include, at the top of your PSA, the following information:

DATE: (Date you're sending the announcement out)

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT RE: (Brief description)

PROGRAM DATE: (Date your program starts)

AIR DATES: (Choose a time period over which you want announcement made)

FOR MORE INFORMATION: (Your contact person's name & telephone)

TIME: (10 sec., 20 sec., 30 sec., etc.)

Double-space your announcement for easy reading. Use ALL CAPS for the same reason. Make sure your announcement and header information (above) all fits on one page. You may want to send in several PSAs of varying lengths, to give the announcers a choice. Send each one on a separate sheet, each with the same header information.

Keep your messages within the 10-, 20-, or 30-second limit. Time it yourself, reading at a normal pace, to make sure. Always include the pertinent information in your announcement: Who, What, When, Where, and How to get more information. There's no time in a 30-second announcement to get to the Why—spend your remaining seconds on a catchy invitation.

Television Announcements

Television stations must provide public service time, too. Many have noon or morning "magazine" shows that include a regular segment of time for community announcements. All you need to do to get your announcements read during these times is call the station to find out who coordinates announcements for the show, and mail your information to that person.

Getting a stand-alone public service announcement on television (one that is run in a string of commercials during regular programming) is a little more complicated. You must call the Public Service Director at the station to arrange this. Taped public service announcements must be shot on 3/4" videotape (home cameras use 1/2" tape), and are difficult for most libraries without studios to produce. You may be able to talk your local station's Public Service Director into filming a spot for you and duplicating it for other stations in the area. Before approaching a station about doing this, you must have a script and scene in mind. It's much easier for them to make a decision if they have some idea what it's going to involve. If a taped PSA is out of the question, most stations will accept a slide and an announcement. They will hold the slide on screen while they run a taped voice-over of your announcement. Wording should be similar to radio spots—nothing longer is appropriate. Your slide can be a "reproduction" of the Reading Program artwork. Make it colorful. When shooting slides for television, remember to leave a very wide border around your actual copy. Not all of slide is picture shows on a television screen. Do not use white as a background color; white shimmers and glares on TV. Slides of library activities might also be appropriate for PSAs: keep your main visual idea restricted to the center area of the slide.

• A MAJOR WORD OF CAUTION ABOUT TELEVISION ANNOUNCEMENTS

Television is an incredibly regional medium. Always bear in mind the impact your announcement will have on other libraries than your own. Your announcements may be seen by viewers over many counties—and everybody's library has a different thing going regarding program specifics such as dates, events, awards, and so forth. Keep your TV PSAs generic enough so they won't cause heartbreak or utter chaos in somebody else's library. Call around to other libraries in your viewing area and get their feelings on the issues before you approach the TV people.

TV News Coverage

Go for it! If you have an event (an event, not a summer-long program) that's newsworthy, call the News Director at your station. Be very specific about what a camera might see, how many people are expected to be there, and how many kids participate. Paint a colorful picture and tempt the news people with a good "parting shot" on the nightly news. Tell the News Director you'll drop off some background information at the station, then do it. (Include your information for the Arizona Reading Program, and any other pertinent materials you have on hand.) Add a separate sheet that gives details on the event you're wanting covered: time, place, what's happening when, and what good visuals they might find. News people can never commit to coverage ahead of time (you're up against national news and local house fires) but most are willing to seriously consider library stories, especially when kids are involved.

RE: Reading Program Release Date:

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY

The 1994 Reading Program Get A Clue At The Library, held at the name of library, ended on date. (Number of Children) discovered the joy of reading and clues to countless mysteries at the library. Over a period of weeks, more than (number) (books or minutes) were enthusiastically read by the participants. Children received prizes such as (list some here) as they met reading goals. Local sponsors included (list here, if any). In conjunction with the Get A Clue At The Library program, attended special events held at the library.

For information about programs at the _____ Library this (month), you may telephone _____ at _____. The library is located at _____.

It is very important during your reading program to recognize the progress your participants are making. Do this in one of two ways. The first is through incentives: items you receive from the State library, or items donated by the local merchants or items you purchase yourself. The second way you recognize your readers is to give each participant a certificate.

Awarding Certificates

Award the certificates at the end-of-summer celebration, through schools after school begins, or individually as children complete requirements.

1. Many libraries plan special programs or parties to wind up the Reading Program on a festive note. If the library distributes certificates at a final celebration, make it seem special. Perhaps the library can have a special guest, such as a local official, to help give out certificates. Libraries who have done this reported that they had many unclaimed certificates, and indicated that this process needs a back-up distribution system.
2. If the library plans to distribute certificates in the fall through the schools, contact the schools for approval in the spring. Ask to be able to do this at an assembly if possible.
3. Some libraries give certificates to children as they complete requirements. This has the advantage of solving the problem of unclaimed certificates at the summer's end. However, it may make children feel they have finished the program and thus finished the reading for the summer. If you use this approach, be sure staff tells the children as they award certificates that they hope the children will keep reading and visiting the library. The library can still have an end-of-the-summer party without the certificate distribution.

Incentives

Many libraries like to give children some other small token for completing the program. There are arguments for and against prizes, but library budgets generally ensure they are very modest. Hint: Do not save something for a prize that is better used as a promotional item early in the program.

1. There are many ways in which public libraries can reward children for participating in the library's reading program. Incentives ranging in cost from bookmarks printed by the state library to T-shirts (one of the more expensive prizes) with the program slogan. Free tickets and coupons are also good incentives. For example, one year the Houston Astros, Denny's, and Whataburger supported a summer reading program by providing free tickets to Astros games, coupons for free snacks at Denny's, and free Whataburgers. One library provided top readers with such incentives as coupons for free mini-pizzas (Pizza Hut is usually willing), ice cream sundaes and movie tickets. Larger rewards, such as sun visors and wrap-around sun glasses, while still low cost may be provided by the Friends of the Library.
2. Buttons are extremely popular with the children. One year a library discontinued passing out club buttons to the children enrolled. They found out from the resulting outcry that the buttons were an important part of the whole program. Kids collected the buttons from the first time they enroll and built collections that they valued highly. The following year they brought the buttons back, and reading jumped 10%. Many of the sources listed in the appendix (starting on page Q-11) offer buttons at a minimal price; if you have button-making machines, volunteers could design and make them for your program.

3. Another way to stimulate the interest of children in the Reading Program is to introduce computers. One library borrowed four Apple computers. Kids registered themselves on the computers. They kept track of their own scores as they played the reading game on a Monopoly-like game board. The kids read in specified subject areas for extra points, drew picture book reports, participated in the weekly trivia contest, and attended library programs. One of their librarians did the computer programming and designed the reading games. A big plus was the reduction in paperwork usually involved in keeping track of the participants.

Games

Games are a great way to stimulate interest in reading programs. One of the benefits of a reading game is that it attracts the average and poor readers, as well as the better readers, and everyone has an equal chance. If you are interested in finding out about Enoch Pratt's summer reading game, a report on it appears in the Spring 1986 issue of Top of the News magazine.

The important thing to remember is that a positive reinforcement of a love of reading is the main goal. Children's librarians have long held as their foremost objectives those so well formulated by Harriet Long in her book Rich The Treasure:

1. "To make a wide collection of books easily and temptingly available."
2. "To give guidance to children in their choice of books and materials."
3. "To share, extend, and cultivate the enjoyment of reading as a voluntary, individual pursuit."
4. "To encourage lifelong education through the use of public library resources."
5. "To help children develop their personal abilities and social understanding to the fullest."
6. "To serve as a social force in the community together with the child's welfare."

An Alternative View

Opponents of reading programs feel that there is a tendency by parents, teachers or the children to make participation competitive. The child reading the largest number of books is the winner of the game. This emphasizes quantity over quality and discourages some children. Some librarians feel that no awards or prizes should be given, that the only reward should be the pleasure derived by the child. Some libraries award certificates to children who read the required number of books. The schools often cooperate by presenting these certificates at assemblies. This recognizes the child's effort and encourages other children to realize that reading can be a pleasurable experience.

Also, the system of awarding prizes differs from one library to another. Some libraries reward children based on the number of books read, some on the number of pages read, and some even recognize simply the amount of time spent reading. In whatever way your library recognizes the children's participation, give some form of reward.

"...Children who are not told stories and who are not read to will have few reasons for wanting to learn to read."

Gail E. Haley, 1971 Caldecott Medal acceptance speech.

"...While enriching your child's world, don't overlook the fact that looking at books and being read to is one of the best preparations for learning to read oneself."

Toni S. Gould, Home Guide to Early Reading.

"...Do you read to the older children who can read for themselves? If you do not, you are depriving them of a pleasure they will remember all of their lives."

Charlotte Leonard, Tied Together.

As librarians, we are well aware of the benefits of reading to children. We have heard the testimonials, read the research, made our own observations. We believe strongly in the practice, but we have the opportunity to read to the same children maybe once a week. School teachers can at least read aloud to the same children every day, but we all know that the greatest impact is made by the parents who read in the home. Use the Reading Program as an opportunity to encourage reading as a family activity.

Get parents involved from the beginning of the summer reading program.

Hold a kick-off event for the Arizona Reading Program involving parents and children. If possible, have the parents and children come to the same event, breaking into separate groups after a welcome and explanation of the Arizona Reading Program.

During the parent component:

Invite a local reading specialist to give a brief presentation to the group. Colleges, universities or local school districts are all sources for speakers. The speaker should keep it short and realize that the audience is composed of parents, not educators or other specialists.

Parents not in the habit of reading aloud may be hesitant to make their first choices. Prepare a list of books you think are especially suited to the purpose. Draw attention to the list and, if possible, make enough copies to give away.

Book talk your parents! Draw their attention to books for adults that will help them get started reading aloud or inspire them. The New Read-Aloud Handbook by Jim Trelease is excellent. It contains lists of proven read-aloud winners. Describe or quote briefly from one or two titles.

At the end of the parent component, bring groups back together and have someone read a story or chapter to the entire group. Prepare the reader with an enticing selection, but read it, do not perform it. While everyone enjoys a good storyteller, we want to convince parents that reading and listening together is a pleasurable experience within any family's reach.

There is a rationale for stressing brevity in the parent's program. We want parents to find the program interesting and quick-moving, but we do not want to overwhelm them with the idea of reading as a family. If parents think they have to make radical overnight changes in the family's routine, they may not even get started.

Parental Program Tips

Have a guest book for parents to sign that includes addresses so that you can send invitations to future events or other information.

Provide refreshments to foster an informal, social atmosphere.

Create displays of books from reading lists so individuals can easily pick them up at the end of the program.

Allow time at the end for browsing and socializing.

Keep everyone involved during the length of the Arizona Reading Program.

If you use contracts for a reading program, allow books or pages read by parents to count toward fulfillment of the contract. Parents could make a separate contract, if they prefer, but either contract should allow the books read to count for older children as well as Read-To-Me participants.

Was the atmosphere enthusiastic at your kick-off event? If so, try a midsummer parent/child get together. You may want to have someone share a favorite book or excerpt and/or show a short film based on a children's book. Draw attention to any interesting new titles and be prepared to recommend more favorites. Allow families plenty of time to swap experiences and favorite titles as well as to browse.

A biweekly or monthly read-aloud newsletter could be a feature. This can be as simple as a photocopied list of additional titles especially suited for reading aloud or a report of the children's activities in the Arizona Reading Program. Use your mailing list if funds permit or send a sheet home with the children.

Have the last meeting of the Arizona Reading Program at a time when parents can attend and make it a big celebration. You may award certificates at this time. You can award special certificates for reading families or indicate on the child's certificate (with gummed stars or stickers) how many books were read aloud by a parent.

Refer to the section A Word (or 2) for Parents, in the chapter on program structures. This section has many useful tips for parental involvement. You may wish to photocopy the tips and hand them out to parents when they register their children for the Reading Program.

WHAT'S IN THAT BOX?

Books

The following books use boxes as part of the story:

Andersen, Hans Christian. The Tinderbox.

With the help of a magic tinderbox, a soldier finds a fortune and pursues a princess imprisoned in a castle.

Brighton, Catherine. Five Secrets in a Box.

Gallileo's daughter, Virginia, explores his study and discovers some of his scientific tools.

Brown, Ruth. A Dark, Dark Tale.

Journeying through a dark, dark house, a black cat surprises the house's only occupant.

Caines, Jeannette. I Need a Lunch Box.

A little boy's big sister has a new lunch box, and he wants one, too, for his own special treasures.

Carter, David A. How Many Bugs in a Box?

Raising the flaps on this lift-up counting book reveal fanciful insects in increasing numbers.

Chouinard, Roger and Mariko. One Magic Box.

A box that falls from the sky begins this unusual counting adventure.

Lillegard, Dee. Sitting in My Box.

The box in which the animals are sitting gets more and more crowded until a hungry flea comes along.

Mayer, Marianna. The Little Jewel Box.

An intrepid girl undergoes challenging adventures with the help of a treasured family jewel box and its unusual contents.

Shannon, George. The Surprise.

Squirrel gives his mother a series of nested boxes as a surprise birthday gift.

Weiss, Nicki. Surprise Box.

Draw-and-Tell Story: The Locked Box

Clinton got out of his sopping wet clothes and put on some dry ones. Then he went into the kitchen and got a snack for himself and his friend, Marc—a chocolate covered doughnut for himself and one with sprinkles for his friend.

"Have you figured out how to open it yet?" he asked his friend. Marc was sitting at the table looking at a metal box. The box was locked and Marc was trying to figure out the combination of six numbers that they needed to open the lock.

"Not yet," he said. "Tell me the story again. . ."

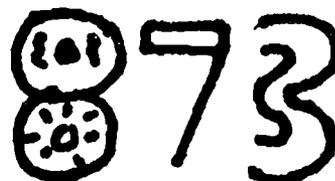

"Okay," said Clinton. "I was walking along and I found this box. . ."

Marc drew a picture of the box.

"I headed home and was walking across the bridge when I dropped the box. It sailed downnnnnnnnn. . . and landed—SPLASH!—in the river. It started to float away on the current."

"Well, I wasn't about to lose my treasure. I jumped into the water and swam downstream after the box. I finally caught up with it about here."

"So you got the box and you swam to shore," said Marc."

"No," said Clinton. "Remember—a sailboat came along. They threw me a rope and pulled me aboard."

"They put me ashore. I dumped the water out of my shoes and started up the hill. That's when Muller's dog took off after me."

"And you got away from him by climbing up the big tree at the top of the hill?" questioned Marc.

"That's right," said Clinton. "But when the dog went away, and I climbed down from the tree, three big kids tried to take the box away from me. I got away from them by climbing the fence at the school, and that's where I met you."

"We came back to my house," said Marc. "You borrowed my sister's bike and we rode down the hill. . .

. . . to your place. And here we are. AND I think I have figured out the numbers we need to open this box."

"You have!" said Clinton. "What are they?"

Do you know? That's right — 8, 7, 3, 4, 5, 2.

They dialed those numbers on the lock, and the box popped open. Inside was—A SMALLER LOCKED BOX. And you will have to write the story of how Clinton and Marc got that box open.<sup>1</sup>

(Note: The storyteller may wish to alter the ending for younger children, asking them to guess what was in the smaller locked box or to tell how they would open the box themselves.)

Poem: *Jack-in-the-BoxMaterials needed: NoneDirections: Read the poem below to the children. Encourage them to bend down low when the poem begins and to jump up when you say, "Up you pop!"

Jack, Jack, down you go,
 Down in your box, down so low.
 Jack, Jack, there goes the top.
 Quickly now, up you pop!
 (Author unknown)<sup>2</sup>

Song: *Boxes EverywhereMaterials needed: NoneDirections: Sing the following song with the children, to the tune of The Muffin Man.

Boxes, boxes, everywhere.
 Some are long, some are square.
 Some I stack, when they are small.
 Some so big, inside I crawl.
 (Author unknown)<sup>3</sup>

Guessing Games: Surprise Box I*Materials needed: Assortment of objects (things that make noises are good)
Boxes with lids
Tape or s'ring to secure the lidsDirections: Put an object into each box and tape or tie the boxes closed. Shake the box (or ask a child to do so) and have the group listen to the contents of the box. Have the children try to guess what is inside. Give as many clues as necessary until they guess what the object is, Then show the children the object. Repeat the steps with the rest of the boxes.<sup>4</sup>Surprise Box II: (A Variation)*Materials needed: Assortment of objects (things with different textures recommended)
Boxes with lids
Tape or string to secure the lids
ScissorsDirections: With the scissors, cut a hole in each box lid, large enough for a small child's hand. Place an object in each box and seal the lid. Pass the box among the children, and ask each to feel the object inside. Ask the children to tell how the object felt (smooth, scratchy, soft, etc.) then ask if they can guess what the mystery object is. Give as many clues as necessary. After the guessing is done, open the box and show the object. Repeat the steps with the rest of the boxes.<sup>5</sup><sup>2</sup> Warren, Jean. Toddler Theme-a-Saurus. ## Dibuja-y-Cuenta el Cuento: La Caja Cerrada

Clinton se quitó la ropa mojada y se puso unos secos. Luego, fue a la cocina y se consiguió un tentempie para el y su amigo. Marc—una dona de chocolate para el solo y una de espolvorea para su amigo.

¿Te has figurado como lo puedes abrir?" el le pregunto a su amigo. Marc estaba sentado en la mesa mirando la caja de metal. La caja estaba cerrada y Marc estaba figurando la combinacion de seis numeros que puede habrir el candado.

"Ahorita no," el dijo. "Dime el cuento otra vez . . ."

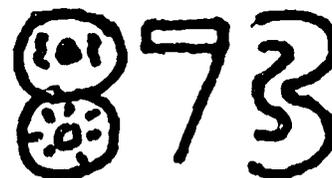

"Okay," dijo Clinton. "Andaba caminando cuando encuentre esta caja . . ."

Marc dibujo un retrato de la caja.

"Me fuí a la casa y andaba caminando al otro lado del puente cuando tire la caja. Se cajo al suelo—SPLASH! —en el rio. Se floto con el corriente."

"Pues. Yo no hiba a perder un tesoro. Brince al agua y nade al rio abajo atras de la caja. Apenas lo alcance con el aquí."

"Agaraste la caja y nadaste a la playa," dijo Marc.

"No," dijo Clinton, " Recuerda—un barco vino, Tiraron una cuerda y me jalaron a bordo."

"Me ponieron en la playa. Sace la agua de mis zapatos y sube el monte. Eso es cuando el perro de Muller salto atrás de mi."

"¿Y tu coriste de el por subiendo el árbol de hariba del monte?" dijo Marc.

"Si," respondió Clinton. "Pero cuando se fué el perro, y me baje del árbol, tres niños grandes querían quitarme la caja. Me escape por subiendo el cerco a la escuela, y aquí es cuando te encuentre."

"Regresamos a mi casa," dijo Marc. "Usaste la bicicleta de mi hermana y subimos el monte . . .

...a tu casa. Y aquí estamos. Y pienso que figure los números que necesitamos para habrir esta caja."

¡Si!" grito Clinton. "¿Que son?"

¿Tu sabes? Eso es — 8, 7, 3, 4, 5, 2.

Usaron esos números en el candado y se abrió la caja. Adentro estaba —UNA CAJA CHICA. Y usted va a deber escribir el cuento de como Clinton y Marc abrieron esa caja.

Joose, Barbara N. Jam Day.

An annual family reunion involving berry-picking and jam-making reminds Ben that he is part of a big, noisy family.

Roffy, Maureen. Mealtime.

Pictures and questions stimulate the reader to talk about food and eating.

Schneider, Rex. The Wide-mouthed Frog.

A wide-mouthed frog asks advice of the other animals in the Oklahoma swamp on a proper diet.

Sharmat, Mitchell. Gregory, the Terrible Eater.

A very picky eater, Gregory the goat refuses the usual goat diet of shoes and tin cans in favor of fruits, vegetables, eggs and orange juice.

Showers, Paul. What Happens to a Hamburger?

Explains the processes by which a hamburger and other foods are used to make energy, strong bones and solid muscles as they pass through the digestive system.

Snow, Pegeen. Eat Your Peas, Louise!

Louise is given all sorts of reasons for eating her peas.

Stock, Catherine. Alexander's Midnight Snack: A Little Elephant's ABC.

A little elephant's midnight snack grows into a feast composed of a different food for each letter of the alphabet.

Wilson, Sarah. Muskrat, Muskrat, Eat Your Peas!

After Muskrat's family meticulously plants, waters and harvests peas, Muskrat doesn't want any.

Paper Bag Poem: Greedy Dog by James Hurley

Materials needed:

Paper bag (a flat-bottomed one is best)
 Picture of Greedy Dog (prepared as directed below)
 Piece of clear plastic
 Piece of paper
 Pictures of food: (pictures included on following pages)

apple core	mushrooms
bacon fat	orange peel
chocolates	paper bag
cleaning rags	socks
cucumber	soup in a pot
dusters	string
handkerchief	toast
milk	wool

Directions: Prepare paper bag by cutting a hole in one of its larger flat sides. The hole should be slightly smaller than the dog's stomach. Cover the hole in bag with a piece of clear plastic, taping the plastic to the inside of the paper bag. Create a slot for the food to drop into the dog's stomach by covering the plastic (inside the paper bag) with a piece of paper. Secure the paper at the bottom and on each side; leave the top open. Cut out the dog picture and color it; cut out a hole in the stomach and attach the dog to the front of the paper bag. The plastic and paper behind it should be visible. Color and cut out the rest of the picture.

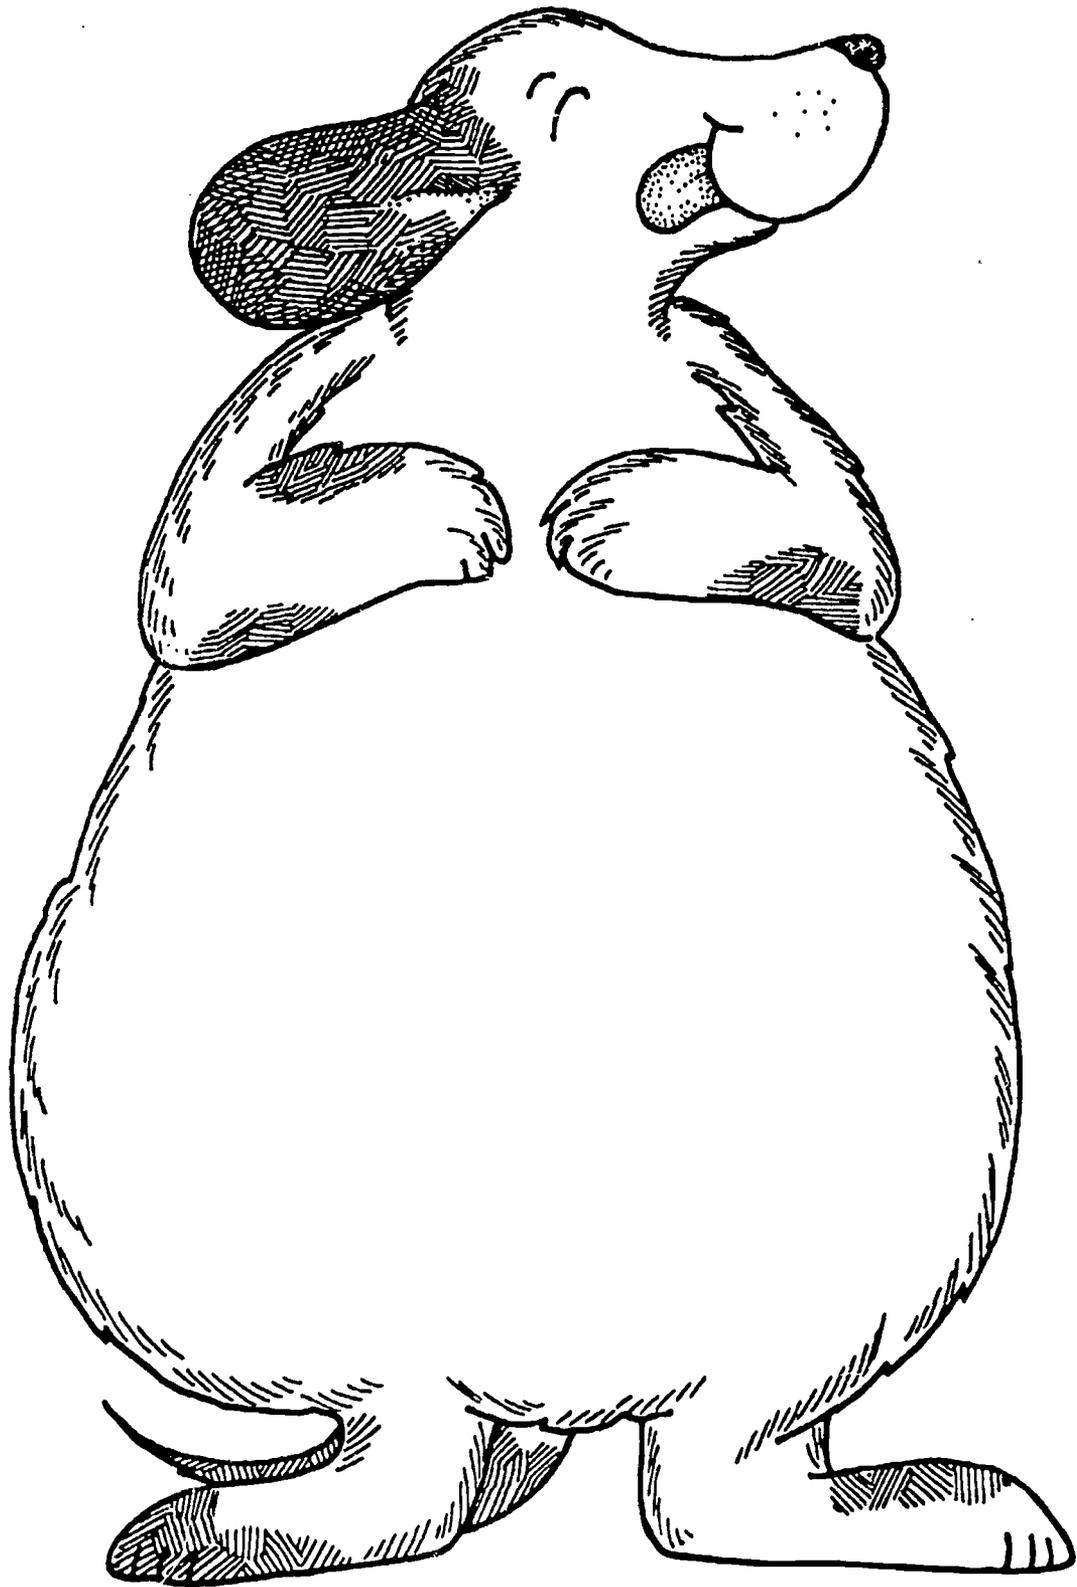

To tell the story of the greedy dog, set the paper bag on a table facing the audience. Recite the poem, and drop the pictures into the slot inside the bag. The pictures of the food should appear inside the dog's stomach. Hold up the pictures of the mushrooms and cucumber; try to "feed" these to the dog, but fail to do so.

Poem:

This dog will eat anything

Apple cores and bacon fat.
 Milk you poured out for the cat
 He likes the string that ties the roast
 And relishes hot buttered toast.
 Hide your chocolates! He's a thief,
 He'll even eat your handkerchief.
 And if you don't like sudden shocks,
 Carefully conceal your socks.
 Leave some soup without a lid,
 And you'll wish you never did.
 When you think he must be full,
 You will find him gobbling bits of wool,
 Orange peels or paper bags,
 Dusters and old cleaning rags.
 This dog will eat anything,
 Except for mushrooms and cucumber.
 Now what is wrong with those, I wonder?<sup>1</sup>

Draw-and-Tell Story: All For One Coin

(Note: drawing must be done on a surface that can be turned over)

There once lived a wealthy merchant in Kashmir whose son was as lazy as he was foolish. (draw the merchant's house)

No matter what the merchant said his son did the opposite. If, that is, he did anything at all. (add the merchant's)

The merchant finally had all he could take. "I want you to go to the marketplace," he told his son, "and buy something for us to eat, something for us to drink, something for the cow to eat, and something for us to plant in the garden." (add the son)

"And" said the merchant, "you may spend only this one small coin. If you can do it, come back home. If you can't, don't come home." (add the coin)

As the boy walked toward the marketplace, he began to cry. He could not think of any way to buy all those things with the coin his father had given him. He'd never be able to go home. (draw the path the boy takes to market)

He was crying so loudly a girl working in the field heard him and asked what was wrong. When he told her about his father's orders and all he had to buy with one small coin, the girl shook her head and told him not to worry. She said he could easily do what his father wanted and told him how. (add the girl)

That night the boy went home with a smile on his face, as well as something to eat, something to drink, something to feed the cow, and something to plant in the garden. (draw the path the boy takes home)

His father was very surprised and very impressed. How did the boy do it? (turn the drawing over)

Solution:

He bought a watermelon: its flesh to eat, its juice to drink, the rind for the cow to eat, and its seeds to plant in the garden.<sup>2</sup>

Other Activities

Game: Crunch! Squirt! Squish!

Materials needed: none

Directions: Children love to make noises with food. In this game, they will have to think what makes noise. There aren't any "right" or "wrong" answers—just lots of possibilities.

Children are seated in a circle. The leader takes a bite of an imaginary food and says, "Crunch," then passed the "food" to the child on her right. This child repeats the action and the sound. The last child in the circle names a crunch food. Potato chips? Celery? A frozen icicle? (You may need to prompt shy children at first.)

Next, the leader bites into a "squirt" and passes it on. Is it a grapefruit? A dill pickle? A bottle of pop?

Finally, try a "squish." What sounds "squish?" A ripe banana? Mashed potatoes? Mud pie?

Make up your own sounds and let the children try their own!<sup>3</sup>

Chant: Stomachache

Directions: Divide the children into two groups. One group will repeat what you say; the other will say the "Alka Seltzer" chorus after each line. If you wish, have the groups switch roles and repeat the chant.

Chant: (children repeat each line):

Marshmallow, jelly bean, bubble gum, soup tureen.
Corn dog, pizza pie, onion ring, French fry.
Barbeque, crab-cake, crackerjack, milkshake.
Popcorn, licorice whip, Hershey bar, pickle chip.
Cheeseburger, Jello-jel, Twinkie cake, Taco Bell
Chocolate malt, Shake n' Bake, Seven-up, STOMACHACHE.

Chorus (after each line):

Alka Seltzer, Alka Seltzer, Alka Seltzer, Alka Seltzer.<sup>4</sup>

Roll-the Can Ice Cream

Materials needed: 3-pound coffee can (with lid)
 1-pound coffee can (with lid)
 1 c. heavy cream
 1 c. milk
 1 egg, beaten
 1/2 c. sugar
 1 tsp. vanilla crushed ice
 rock or kosher salt
 spoon

Directions: Pour the cream, milk, egg, sugar and vanilla into the smaller coffee can. Put lid on the can and place it inside the larger coffee can. Add layers of crushed ice and salt around the smaller can. Put lid on larger can.

Now, let the children roll the can briskly back and forth on a hard surface (like the playground) for about 10 minutes. Open the larger can, dump the ice and water. Take out the smaller can, uncover, and stir down the contents from the sides of the can. Cover and return the smaller can. Repack the larger can with fresh ice and salt. Cover the large can again, and roll again for another 5-10 minutes. The longer you roll, the firmer the ice cream will be!<sup>5</sup>

Cedric Celery, the Garden Snake

Materials needed: celery spreads (cream cheese, peanut butter or cheese spread work well) sharp knife plastic knives (for spreading) platter, cookie sheet or tray

Directions: Cut up celery into one-inch chunks and invite children to spread cream cheese, peanut butter, or a cheese spread on the ends of the sections. Now assemble Cedric in a wavy shape on a platter, cookie sheet or tray.
 After everyone has admired him, pass Cedric around for everyone to munch a section.<sup>6</sup>

Song: The disappearing D-O-N-U-T

Materials needed: flannel board
 large felt donut shape letters D-O-N-U-T
 scissors
 glue

Directions: Make a large donut shape from felt, cutting the donut into five sections. Glue the letters, D-O-N-U-T on the sections (one letter per section). Assemble these on a flannel board to begin the activity. You may want to serve donuts after the activity.

Song:

I know a treat that has a hole
 As you can plainly see.
 D-O-N-U-T
 D-O-N-U-T
 D-O-N-U-T

(Leader: point to letters as you D-O-N-U-T sing.)

Save a bite for me!
 CHOMP!

(Remove D section.)

I know a treat that has a hole
 As you can plainly see
 (Clap) O-N-U-T
 (Clap) O-N-U-T
 (Clap) O-N-U-T
 Save a bite for me!
 CHOMP

(Point to blank space, then letters.)

(Remove O section.)

(Continue song, clapping for each section of the disappearing donut, pointing to blank spaces and remaining letters until the donut is all gone.)

I know a treat that has a hole,
 But now where can it be?
 (Clap-clap-clap-clap-clap)
 (Clap-clap-clap-clap-clap)
 (Clap-clap-clap-clap-clap)

Nate the Great Puppet Show

Narrator:

Boy (with detective costume, magnifying glass in hand)–Nate the Great

Annie (brown hair)

Young Harry (covered in red paint)

Dog (yellow fur)

Rosamund (black hair/green eyes)

Many little cats with green eyes

Props: Table, chair set with several stacks of pancakes, juice and milk, telephone; note to Mother

SCENE I Kitchen

Nate: Hi. My name is Nate the Great. I'm a detective. You know what a detective is, don't you? It's one of those smart guys who help people solve mysteries. Like most famous detectives, I work alone. But right now, since I'm not on a case, I'm going to eat my breakfast. (Walks over to table) Let's see - pancakes, juice, pancakes, milk, pancakes. . . That's just about right. I love pancakes. (Telephone rings. Nate walks over to phone) I hope this is a call to look for lost diamonds or pearls or a million dollars! Hello. Oh, it's you, Annie. You lost a picture? Of course I can help you find it, I'll be right over. Stay right where you are. Don't touch anything. Don't move. Don't even breathe!

(Play Pink Panther music as Nate puts on detective outfit; gets a notebook and pencil; leaves note for Mother–Dear Mother, I will be back shortly, Love, Nate the Great)

SCENE II Annie's House

Yellow room with desk, chair, lamp, wastebasket, picture on wall

Nate: (offstage) Let's see, 2244, 2246, 2248. . . 2250! This is it! (Knock on door. Annie opens door and Nate walks in).

Annie: Oh Nate, I'm so glad you could come!

Nate: Tell me about your picture.

Annie: I painted a picture of my dog, Fang. I put it on my desk to dry. Then it was gone.

Nate: Hmm mm mm. . . very interesting! Now where would a picture go?

Annie: I don't know. That's why I called you. Are you sure you're a detective?

Nate: Sure, I'm sure. I'll find that picture of Fang. Tell me, does this house have any trap doors or secret passages? (Nate looks at ceiling and floor).

Annie: No.

Nate: No trapdoors or secret passages? This will be a very dull case.

Annie: But I have a door that squeaks (walks over to door and opens it–squeaky door sound is played).

Nate: Gee, you should get that fixed. Now show me your desk. (Both Annie and Nate walk over to desk. Nate inspects it with his magnifying glass). Well I'm sure of one thing.

Annie: What's that?

Nate: You sure like yellow!

Annie: (Shakes head in exasperation, while Nate searches room by looking on, under, and behind things. Then he looks in the wastebasket and holds up a crumpled picture of a dog).

Nate: Aha! Nate the Great has solved another mystery!!

Annie: (Shaking head) No, no, no! My picture of Fang is yellow!

Nate: I should have known! Okay, tell me who has seen your picture?

Annie: My friend Rosamund, my brother Harry, and Fang. But Fang doesn't count - he's a dog.

Nate: Everybody and everything counts. What is Fang like? Is he a big dog?

Annie: Very big!

Nate: Does he have big teeth?

Annie: Very big!

Nate: Does he bite people?

Annie: No...Will this help the case?

Nate: No, but it might help me. Show me Fang.

Annie: He's in the backyard. Let me get him. (Annie goes offstage) Fang, Fang, here boy.

(Nate stands on stage trembling. Annie enters with a very big, yellow dog with very big teeth.

Dog: (Walks up to Nate and sniffs him).

Nate: Nice doggie. Nice doggie (Pets the dog). Look what I've got for you. (Pulls bone from pocket, shows it to Fang and throws it offstage).

Dog: (Exits, chasing after bone).

Nate: (Looking in the distance). Say, look at him bury that bone. He buries well. You know, he could bury other things - like a picture.

Annie: Why would he bury a picture?

Nate: Maybe he didn't like it!

Annie: I never thought of that.

Nate: (Standing in a very proud looking pose). I, Nate the Great, think of everything. Does Fang ever leave this yard?

Annie: Only on a leash.

Nate: Then the only place he could bury the picture is in the yard! Let's dig up the yard and we'll surely find the picture.

(Annie and Nate exit).

Annie: (Offstage) Here are the shovels, Nate.

Nate: (Offstage) Great! Let's get busy. (Make grunting noises as digging goes on).

Annie: Hey, look what I found (throw bones on-stage).

Nate: That's no help! Keep digging. It must be here somewhere. All I seem to dig up is rocks, (throw rocks on-stage) and worms (throw worms on-stage).

Annie: I'm getting tired. We've been digging for an hour and we still haven't found my picture.

Nate: I, Nate the Great, have something to say.

Annie: Yes?

Nate: Let's take a pancake break and then visit suspect #2, your friend Rosamond.

(Annie and Nate exit stage).

SCENE III

Rosamond's house. Cats are everywhere. Rosamond is petting her cats and she has cat hair on her dress. Super Hex (cat) is hiding under a table covered with a skirt, only his tail is sticking out.

Annie: (Offstage) Here's Rosamond's house. Let's see if she's home. (Knock at door)

Rosamond: (Answers door)

Nate: I am Nate the Great the famous detective.

Rosamond: A detective? A real, live detective?

Nate: Touch me.

Rosamond: Prove you are a detective. Find something, like my lost cat.

Nate: I'm on a big case.

Rosamond: My lost cat is big. His name is Super Hex. All my cats are named Hex. This is Big Hex, Little Hex, Plain Hex, Black Hex, White Hex, Fat Hex, Slim Hex, Happy Hex. . .

Nate: ENOUGH!!! I CAN'T TAKE ANYMORE!!! (Little Hex jumps on Annie's lap. Big Hex jumps on Nate's head, tail hanging in his face. Nate pushes tail out of his way. Repeat several times for effect. Cat growls threateningly).

Rosamond: I was just trying to introduce you.

Nate: (Looking at Annie) Time to go.

Annie: But we just got here.

Nate: (Emphatically) Time to go! (Moves toward the door, stepping on cat's tail)

Super Hex: M . . EEE . . . OOOOOWWW!

Rosamond: Super Hex!! You found him! You are a detective!!

Nate: Of course. (Nate and Annie exit) (Offstage) Rosamond did not take the picture of your dog; Rosamond only likes cats. Now where is your brother, Harry?

SCENE IV

Back at Annie's house, but now red, splotchy pictures are hanging on the walls, including one of an orange monster

Annie: Harry. Harry? Where are you?

Harry: (Enters stage, paintbrush with red paint on it in hand) Me paint; me paint you.

Nate: Good, no one has ever painted a picture of me, Nate the Great.

Harry: Takes paintbrush and begins covering Nate with paint)

Nate: Hey!!!

Annie: He painted you! He painted you, ha, ha, ha, ha, ha.

Nate: That wasn't funny! Let's get down to business. We need to look for clues. (Looks around, inspects pictures on wal!). He does good work.

Annie: But where is my picture?

Nate: That's a good question. Fang doesn't have it. Rosamond doesn't have it. Harry doesn't have it. Or does he? (Harry looks down as if he is ashamed). I've got it! I, Nate the Great, have found your picture.

Annie: You have? Where?

Nate: Look! Harry has a picture of a clown, a house, a tree, and a monster with three heads.

Annie: So what?

Nate: Look again. The picture of the clown is red, the picture of the house is red, the picture of the tree is red. But, the picture of the monster is orange!

Annie: So what? Orange is great for a monster.

Nate: But Harry paints with red. Everything is red but the monster, and I, Nate the Great, will tell you why. Harry painted a red monster over the yellow picture of your dog. The yellow paint was still wet, and it mixed with the red paint. Yellow and red make orange. That's why the monster is orange, see?

Nate: The monster has three heads; two of the heads were your dog's ears. The third head was the tail. (Demonstrates with pictures) The case is solved.

Annie: I don't know how to thank you.

Nate: I do. Are there any pancakes left?

(Annie and Nate walk offstage while Pink Panther music is playing).<sup>1</sup>

Flannel Board Activity: Crossing the River

Materials needed:

Flannel board Characters:                      wolf goat cabbage boat

Directions:

Add the characters to the flannel board as you tell the story. See if the children can figure out a solution to the man's problem before you use the characters to "act out" the answers.

Story:

Once there was a man who had to take a wolf, a goat and a cabbage across a river. But his boat was so small it could hold only himself and one other thing. The man didn't know what to do. How could he take the wolf, the goat, and the cabbage over one at a time, so that the wolf wouldn't eat the goat and the goat wouldn't eat the cabbage?

Solution 1:

He could take the goat over
and go back alone .

(put goat in boat and move across flannel boat board)

Then take the wolf over
and bring the goat back

(put wolf in boat and move across)
(put goat in boat and move across)

Then take the cabbage over
and leave the goat behind

(put cabbage in boat and move across)

All finally take one last trip and take the goat over to join the wolf and cabbage.

(put goat in boat and move across)

Solution 2

He could take the goat over
and go back alone.

(put goat in boat and move flannel board)

Then take the cabbage over
and bring the goat back.

(put cabbage in boat and move across)
(put goat in boat and move across)

Then take the wolf over and leave the goat behind.

(put wolf in boat and move across)

And finally go back and get the goat on the last trip.

(put goat in boat and move across)<sup>2</sup>

Game: Detective

Material needed: large magnifying glass (optional)

Directions: Have the children sit in a semicircle. Choose one child to be the Detective. Describe an object or person in the room by giving clues such as these: "I'm thinking of something that is red. It bounces. What is it?" Or "Someone in this room is wearing green. Her name begins with an 'M.' She has a big brother named Scott. Who is she?" Then let the Detective move around the room and try to discover the object or person you described. Continue giving clues until the Detective finds what he or she is searching for. Then choose another child to be the Detective.

Hint: For an authentic touch give the Detective a large magnifying glass to look through as she or he searches for clues.

Variations: Older children may enjoy creating their own clues for the Detective. You may wish to select one of the group and ask him or her to select an object or person and make up some clues for the Detective (this will work best if the detective is out of earshot), or the group might like to think up clues for an object or person you name (also while the Detective is out of hearing range).

The children may also enjoy participating in the game by having one of the group hide an object in his or her hand while the Detective leaves the room. When the Detective returns, you may give clues to the person's identity, until the Detective solves the case. Or, the Detective can ask the group with "yes or no" questions (without being able to ask each person "Is it you?") Questions such as "does a boy have the object?" and "does he have on a blue shirt?" would be allowed in the game. When the Detective finds the mystery person, that child becomes the new Detective.<sup>3</sup>

Guessing Games: Surprise Box I

Materials needed: Assortment of objects (things that make noises are good)
Boxes with lids
Tape or string to secure the lids

Directions: Put an object into each box and tape or tie the boxes closed. Shake the box (or ask a child to do so) and have the group listen to the contents of the box. Have the children try to guess what is inside. Give as many clues as necessary until they guess what the object is. Then show the children the object. Repeat the steps with the rest of the boxes.<sup>4</sup>

Surprise Box II: (A Variation)

Materials needed: Assortment of objects (things with different textures recommended)
Boxes with lids
Tape or string to secure the lids
Scissors

Directions: With the scissors, cut a hole in each box lid, large enough for a small child's hand. Place an object in each box and seal the lid. Pass the box among the children, and ask each to feel the object inside. Ask the children to tell how the object felt (smooth, scratchy, soft, etc.) then ask if they can guess what the mystery object is. Give as many clues as necessary. After the guessing is done, open the box and show the object. Repeat the steps with the rest of the boxes.

Flannel Board Activity: Discover Words

Materials needed. Flannel board
28 strips of felt

Directions: Arrange strips of felt on the flannel board in the following pattern:

Tell the children that, by removing some of the felt strips, you can create many words. Explain that the strips can't be turned or slanted, but can be taken off of the board completely. Demonstrate by creating the following word:

Ask the children to help you find new words to make. You may wish to keep a count of the number of words your group makes. If the group is small, you may want to ask one child at a time to come to the flannel board and remove strips as the group thinks of words.

Solution: The following words can be created by removing pieces of felt:

LEAP

PAUL

Can your group think of any others?<sup>5</sup>

La Tabla de Flanela: Palabras Descubridas

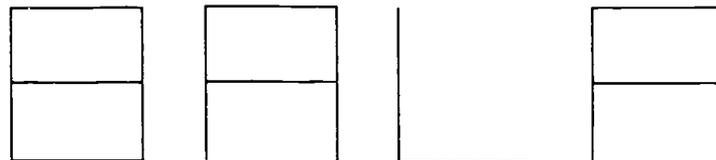

(Rompecabrezas para tabla de flanela)

Materiales necesidades:   Tabla de flanela
   28 tiras de fieltro

Direcciones:   Ponges las tiras de fieltro arriba de la tabla de flanela en el siguiente modelo:

Dile a los niños que, por quitando unos tiras de fieltro, puedes hacer muchas palabras. Explica que las tiras no se pueden boltiar o retirarse pero pueden quitarlos de la tabla completa. Demostre por haciendo la siguiente palabra:

Preguntale a los niños que ayuden a buscar palabras nuevas. Usted puede tener cuentos de los palabros su grupo hace. Si el grupo es muy chico, le puede decir a los niños uno coda tiempo que venga a la tabla flanela y que quite las tiras mientras el grupo piensa de mas palabras

Solucion:   Los siguientes palabras se pueden hacer pro quitando tiras de fieltros:

Native American Sign Language Story

The Great Race of the Birds and Animals (abridged) by Paul Goble. (A Sioux and Cheyenne myth)

Directions: Before telling the story, teach the children a few signs (for the animals in the story):

Buffalo: At sides of head hold up index fingers of both hands. Lift hands slightly until wrists are near top of head. Then move hands forward slightly.

Crow (Bird): Hold hands flat at shoulder, pointing out. For small bird, imitate rapid flapping. For larger birds, flap slowly.

Man: Hold your hand in front of your chin with index finger pointing up.

Wolf: Hold hand in a V that is level with right shoulder. Then move hand up and ahead.

Coyote: Sign Wolf. Then sign Little (Hold hand at shoulder level with tip of index finger pressed against thumbnail)

Magpie: Sign Bird, using rapid flapping motion.<sup>1</sup>

Story:

Do you know why buffaloes (sign Buffalo) have long hair on their chins?

Long ago, when the world was still quite new, buffaloes (sign Buffalo) used to eat people. It is true! The hair on their chins is hair of the people they used to eat. Ya-a-a-a.... It is terrible to think about those times ...

The Creator saw how the people suffered. He heard their prayers for help. There came a day when he told Crow (sign large Bird) to call all living things together to the hills which rise like an island from the center of the great plains. The people, and buffaloes (sign Buffalo), and every bird and animal heard Crow (sign large Bird) calling, and they came to the hills from all directions across the plains.

The Creator stood on the highest hilltop, and spoke to them all: "Toke." Is it right that buffaloes (sign Buffalo) eat people? Or should people eat buffaloes (sign Buffalo) instead? All you tribes of four-leggeds and wingeds will decide. There will be a race around these hills. If the buffaloes (sign Buffalo) win the race, they will still eat people. But if the people win the race, they will eat the buffaloes (sign Buffalo) and all fourleggeds instead. Get ready. Choose your fastest runners. Join the side you want to win."

The people chose a young man (sign Man). He had never lost a race. Even the buffaloes (sign Buffalo) knew he would be hard to beat, but they had a young cow to run for them. She was everyone's favorite, and they were sure she would win.

The animals joined with the buffaloes (sign Buffalo), because they have four legs. The birds sided with the people, because they have two legs, as we do. Each tribe chose its fastest runner.

Suddenly, Wolf (sign Wolf) and Coyote (sign Coyote) raised their heads and h-o-w-l-e-d. Hopo! The runners sped away with a thunder of feet and great wind of flying birds.

The birds flew ahead like arrows. Magpie (sign small Bird) beat her wings fast, and even the tiniest birds left her behind. But she had made up her mind she was going to win. She had been thinking things out, and had made a plan: she flew down and sat on Buffalo's (sign Buffalo) back.

Buffalo (sign Buffalo) and the young man (sign Man) took the lead, and the larger animals were staying close behind. Magpie (sign small Bird) had not made a sound; nobody had even noticed her sitting on Buffalo's (sign Buffalo) back.

Nobody remembers how long they raced around the hills; it was several days. Tired runners dropped out all along the way.

The young man (sign Man) fell farther and farther behind Buffalo (sign Buffalo). He had run his best. Nobody could say he would have run better. Even Buffalo (sign Buffalo) was almost exhausted, and her head hung low. Magpie (sign small Bird) was still clinging to the thick woolly fur of Buffalo's (sign Buffalo) back. But when Buffalo (sign Buffalo) saw the finishing line, she ran faster in a final effort. All the four-legged animals watching from the hillsides cheered her. They were sure she was the winner.

Suddenly Magpie (sign small Bird) flew up from Buffalo's (sign Buffalo) back. Everyone had forgotten about her! She was feeling good and was not tired at all! Magpie (sign small Bird) flew up towards the sun. And then she swooped down, squawking and squawking, and crossed the finishing line just in front of Buffalo (sign Buffalo). A great shout of people and birds filled the air.

Magpie (sign small Bird), the slowest of all of the birds, had won the race for the two leggeds! Ho hecetu welo.

The chiefs of the Buffalo (sign Buffalo) Nation told the people, "That was a fair race. Now we are under your power. You will eat us."

And then the Creator spoke to the people: "Use your power wisely. Look after all things that I have made, even the smallest of them. They are all your relatives. Make yourselves worthy of them, and give thanks always."

After that the people were shown how to make bows and arrows, and they were given horses. They hunted the buffaloes (sign Buffalo) when they needed meat.

Nobody ever harms Magpie (sign small Bird). The people have always been grateful to the birds for taking their side in The Great Race. They honor them when they wear their beautiful feathers.

We can all be a little like the birds: they leave the earth with wings, and we can also leave the world by letting our thoughts rise as high as the birds fly.<sup>2</sup>

Draw-and-Tell Story: The Hare and the Tortoise (from Aesop)

Materials needed: paper
marker

Directions: Prepare for telling the story by drawing the moral to the story on a large piece of paper, using the "turtle code" shown below. Show the "turtle code" to the group, and explain that the moral to the fable you're about to tell is hidden in the code. Tell them they will have to figure it out when the story is done. Tell the story, then let the children try to decipher the code. You may give as many hints as necessary. It may be helpful to write the letters the children select on a separate sheet of paper and let them check it to see if they have found the answer.

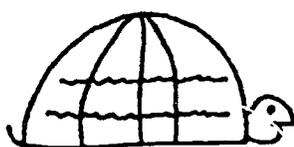

Story:

A Hare was always boasting about his speed and making fun of a Tortoise because he was so slow. One day the Tortoise challenged the Hare to a race. "You may laugh at me," he said, "but I know that I could beat you if we ran a race." The Hare was greatly amused at the idea of racing with a Tortoise, and so accepted the challenge. A course was set, and although the two started off together, the Hare quickly outran the Tortoise. He was so far ahead, in fact, that he decided to just lie right down and take a little nap. But the Hare overslept, and when he dashed to the finish line, there was the Tortoise. He had been plodding steadily forward all along, and had already won.

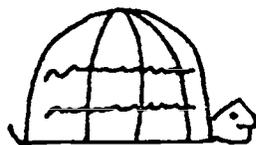

Moral: Slow and steady wins the race.<sup>3</sup>

Turtle Code:

Directions: To decipher the code, look at the turtles that face to the right. Read only the letters right below the lines that go up and down the turtle's shell. Ignore the letters that appear in the spaces between the lines.<sup>4</sup>

Activities: Invisible Ink

Materials needed: ink ingredients (milk, lemon juice or orange juice works well) paint brush
saucer
heavy white writing paper (lined paper is best) heat source (iron or lamp)

Directions: Pour the ink (milk, lemon or orange juice) into a saucer. Dip the paint brush into the ink and write a message on the paper. The ink will disappear almost instantly. To avoid writing one word over another, have the children hold a finger at the end of the last word, to mark the place for the next word to begin.

To make the ink visible, use a heat source such as an iron or lamp with a bright electric bulb. With an adult supervising, have the children exchange papers and hold them near the iron or lamp. The heat will make the message appear.<sup>5</sup>

Moth Codes and Butterflies

Materials needed: Morse code alphabet (included on following page) paper pens, markers or crayons

Directions: Introduce the Morse code to the group, showing the alphabet it uses. You may wish to give each child a copy of the alphabet, or have it posted for all to see. Explain that the letters are made up of dots (quick taps of a telegraph key), dashes (slightly longer taps) and pauses. Tell the group that they can draw the code letters on the wings of the butterflies they draw, and can "hide" the message by adding circles and tiny freckles around dots and dashes. Allow the children to draw some butterflies on the paper, adding the Morse code letters from left to right across both wings and from top to bottom. Remind them to disguise the message by adding circles and freckles to the wings. When the children have finished, ask them to exchange papers and decode the messages.<sup>6</sup>

Make Up Your Own Code

pens, pencils or markers

Directions: Explain that codes can be made up of symbols that each person selects. Have the children write the alphabet and the numbers 0-9 on a piece of paper. Allow enough space between lines for the children to add a symbol below each of the letters and numbers. This will be the "key" another person may use to read a message.

Have the children use the symbols to write a message and exchange it (with the key) with another group member.<sup>7</sup>

Flannel Board Activities

Dinosaurs

Materials needed: Flannel board
Five dinosaurs (made of felt or with strips of felt on the back of each)
Poem, "Dinosaurs"

Directions: Begin the story with the five dinosaurs on the flannel board. Recite the poem, removing one dinosaur at a time. The children may wish to join in on the count of the remaining dinosaurs at the end of each verse.

Poem:

Five enormous dinosaurs
Letting out a roar —
One went away, and
Then there were four.

Three enormous dinosaurs
Eating tiger stew —
One went away, and
Then there were two.

One enormous dinosaur,
Afraid to be a hero —
He went away, and
Then there was zero <sup>1</sup>

Four enormous dinosaurs
Crashing down a tree —
One went away, and
Then there were three.

Two enormous dinosaurs
Trying to run —
One ran away, and
Then there was one.

Bow-wow, Say The Dogs

Materials needed: Flannel board
Felt animals (or ones with felt backing; patterns included on following pages)

- Dog
- Cat
- Hog
- Rat
- Crow
- Duck
- Dinosaur

Directions: Tell the children that you're going to recite a poem about dinosaurs and other animals, and that you'll need their help making each animal's sound. You may wish to practice with the group, by holding up one of the animals and asking the children what sound the animal makes. When ready, recite the poem, adding the animals to the flannel board at the appropriate time, as the children make the animal's sound.

Poem:

"Bow-wow," say the dogs,
"Meow-meow," say the cats,
"Grunt-grunt," go the hogs,
And "squeak," go the rats

"Caw-caw," say the crows,
"Quack-quack," say the ducks,
What did the dinosaurs say?
Nobody knows. <sup>2</sup>

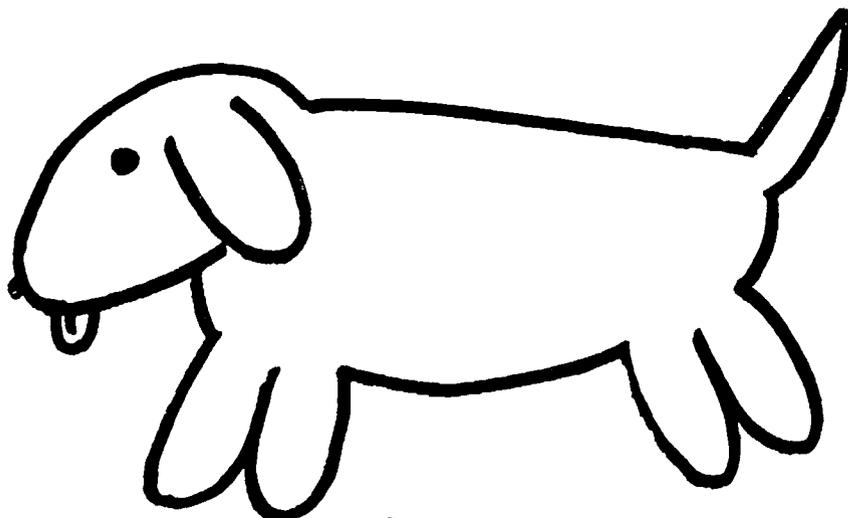

(Note: The children may wish to make up sounds for the dinosaur.)

Other Activities

Song: Dinosaurs

Materials needed: None

Directions: Sing to the tune of Oh, My Darling Clementine

Great big dinosaurs, great big dinosaurs,
Lived so long ago.
Some liked land and some liked water,
Some flew in the air.

Great big dinosaurs, great big dinosaurs,
Lived so long ago.
Some had horns and some had spikes,
Some had wings like bats.

Great big dinosaurs, great big dinosaurs,
Lived so long ago
Some ate plants and some ate meat,
But now there are no more.<sup>3</sup>

Activity: Fossil Hunt

Materials needed: Large baking pan(s) (13" x 9")
Cornmeal or sandbox sand
Small plastic dinosaurs
Spoons

Directions: Bury several plastic dinosaurs in a large cornmeal or sand and place the pan on the table. If the story time group is large, more than one pan may need to be prepared. Let the children take turns going on a "fossil hunt." Give the children spoons to use to dig in the cornmeal or sand. When a dinosaur is discovered, ask the children to identify it by looking carefully at its characteristics.

Variation: This activity can also be done in a sandbox.<sup>4</sup>

Matching Game: What Did They Eat?

Materials needed: Flannel board
 Felt items: Dinosaurs (patterns included on following pages)
 Tall plant/tree
 Short plant/shrub
 Steak
 Fish

Directions: Introduce the matching game to the children, explaining that different dinosaurs ate different kinds of food. Place the plants, steak and fish in a column on the flannel board, asking the children to identify each one. Show them the dinosaurs, one at a time, and ask them to guess what each dinosaur ate. You may have to lead the children to distinguish between the plant-eating dinosaurs (some were able to eat tall vegetation, while others grazed on short plants). When all of the dinosaurs have been matched, check the guesses with the answer key below. The children may wish to compare the dinosaurs' dining habits with present-day animals, too.<sup>5</sup>

Answer Key

Dinosaurs that ate short plants:

STEGOSAURUS (steg-ah-SAWR-us) Its name means "roofed lizard," referring to the plates on its back.

TRICERATOPS (try-SAIR-uh-tops) Its name means "three-horned face," because it has three horns on its face.

Dinosaurs that ate tall plants:

APATOSAURUS (ah-PAT-uh-sawr-us) Its name means "deceptive lizard," because it's easily confused with other Sauropods.

PLATEOSAURUS (PLAY-tee-uh-sawr-us) Its name means "flat lizard," referring to the dinosaur's flat, plate-like teeth.

Dinosaurs that ate meat:

TYRANNOSAURUS (tye-RAN-uh-sawr-us) Its name means "tyrant lizard," because of its great size, and wicked teeth and claws.

ALLOSAURUS (AL-uh-sawr-us) Its name means "different lizard," because its vertebrae were different from all other dinosaurs.

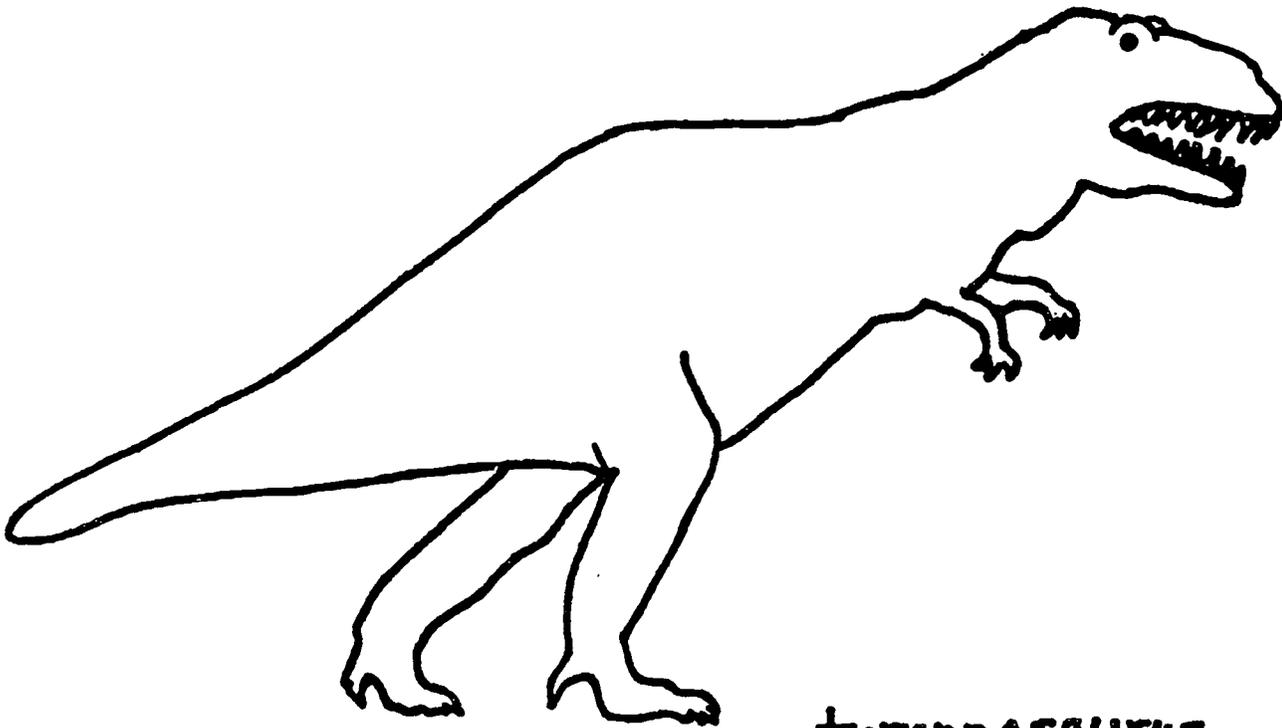

Dinosaurs that ate fish:

PTERANODON (tair-AN-o-don) Its name means "winged and toothless," because it could fly and it had no teeth.

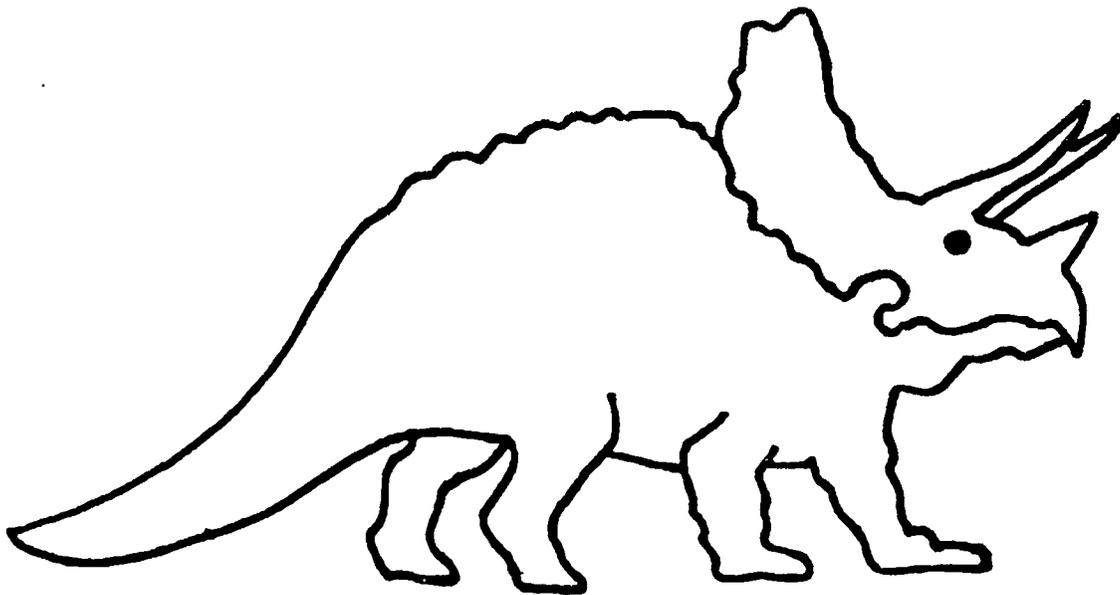

ARCHELON (AR-kee-lon) Its name means "ruler tortoise," because it is the largest known turtle.<sup>6</sup>

Actividades*Cancion: Dinosaurios

(Una cancion para: Oh, Mi Querida, Clementina)

Los grande dinosaurios, los grande dinosaurios,
Viviendo hase mucho.
Unos les gustaban la tierra y otros le gustaban el agua,
Unos volaban en el aire.

Los grande dinosaurios, los grande dinosaurios,
Viviendo hase mucho.
Unos tenian cuernos y unos tenian picos,
Unos tenian alás de murcielago.

Los grande dinosaurios, los grande dinosaurios,
Viviendo hase mucho.
Unos comian plantas y otros comian carne,
Pero ahore, ya no hoy.

Book Bingo

Children like bingo, and it can be a great way to familiarize them with titles, authors, and illustrators. The activity can certainly be varied in numerous ways for the library. Make BINGO cards, and always laminate them so you will get more use out of them. Label the columns MYSTERY, PICTURE BOOK, FICTION, NONFICTION, BIOGRAPHY, AUTHOR, etc. Assemble a list of at least 10 to 12 or more answers in each classification. Write in the titles or names on the cards various orders.

To play the game, you call the names or titles instead of numbers in random order. Prizes can be given. You may use fewer columns such as book characters, titles, and authors for the lower grades to simplify the game.

Summer Reading for Young Adults

Young adults, ages 12-18, or in grades 7-12, are generally not included in youth summer reading programs unless they participate with the younger age group. Adolescents often lose interest in reading and library use if they are not encouraged as they move away from the Children's Room. They need a special reading program specifically geared toward teen interests that will promote reading and get them to use the library on their own. Many libraries have had successful programs for this age group judging by positive feedback from Arizona libraries that have done programs and by articles appearing in professional literature. (See bibliography for a selected list.)

I. General Goals and Objectives

- A. To promote reading and library use among teens by
  - 1. offering incentives.
  - 2. providing programs for fun and information.
  - 3. creating booklists and bibliographies of interest.
- B. To increase young adult participation in the library by:
  - 1. offering volunteer opportunities to work in the library.
  - 2. asking teens to help in the planning and production of programs and activities for their peers.

II Establishing a Young Adult Programs

- A. Establish a Theme
  - 1. Must be appropriate to the age group. Talk to teens themselves and be conscious of current trends in selecting a theme. Read current teen magazines to gather ideas.
  - 2. It is preferable to coordinate the teen theme with the juvenile theme, if possible,
- B. Design a Program
  - 1. Devise a procedure and rules to log reading by:
    - a. Pages read
    - b. Minutes read
    - c. Book reviews (entered onto computer or kept in file for peer reader advisory).
    - d. Other; use your imagination!
  - 2. Decide upon appropriate incentives for teens.
    - a. Fast food coupons.
    - b. Theme park passes.
    - c. Record, video, bookstore gift certificates.
    - d. Shopping mall gift certificates.
    - e. Bowling, batting, video arcade, skating passes.
    - f. Clothing and jewelry.
    - g. Hair care salons.
    - h. Books and posters.
  - 3. Decide how purchased or donated incentives will be given out:
    - a. Upon registering.
    - b. As they turn in reading logs.
    - c. Weekly drawings.

- d. Grand prize drawing.
  - e. Some/all of the above.
4. Activities:
- a. Must be appropriate to the age level.
  - b. Possible choices:

Babysitting workshop	Cartooning
College Financial Aid	T-shirt design
SAT Preparatory Workshop	Art shows
Sexuality information for parents and teens	Career exploration
Junior High preparation/introduction	Creative writing
Science fiction/fantasy illustration	Grooming and fashion
Role playing games or events:	Calligraphy
medieval crafts, costumes, swordplay	Sign language
Contests/puzzles that tie into theme.	Talent shows
	Baseball card collecting

III Budget

- A. Locate Sponsors to help with funding:
  - 1. Friends of the Library
  - 2. Corporations and community businesses
  - 3. Grants
  - 4. Library budget
  - 5. Combination of above
- B. Minimize Expenditures
  - 1. Incentives
    - a. Ask businesses to sponsor the program by giving coupons, gift certificates, or merchandise.
      - a1. Local businesses are usually more responsive than large national chains.
      - a2. Start early - sometimes it takes a few months to get a response.
      - a3. Donations should be acknowledged in publicity wherever possible.
      - a4. Consider sending a token of the program with your thank-you. (Mesa Public Library sent a decal saying "We Support Reading at Mesa Public Library.")
    - b. If library policy permits, you can also purchase incentives.
  - 2. Printing
    - a. Check with printers or newspapers willing to print for little or no fee.
  - 3. Staff
    - a. Hire temporary staff if funds are available.
    - b. Use teen volunteers to administer program.

IV. Publicity

- A. The program must be promoted primarily to teens. Some suggestions:
  - 1. Booktalks in middle, junior, and senior high schools.
  - 2. Newspaper, radio, and television announcements. Contact school newspapers in early spring. Call favorite teen radio stations.
  - 3. Cable television bulletin boards.
  - 4. Community bulletin boards.
  - 5. PA announcements in schools.
  - 6. Displays, posters, and flyers in the school libraries.
  - 7. Inserts in community mailings.

- B. The program must also be promoted to parents

Summer Reading Program

June - July 1993

The Summer Reading Program (SRP) encourages youth, infants through junior high age, to continue and improve their reading skills. Volunteers will assist with sign-up, programs and other tasks assigned by the supervisor. Volunteers will be expected to work at least one two-hour shift every week.

Volunteers must have completed sixth grade by May 31, 1993 and must attend one of the four orientations meetings on either Monday, May 24th, or Tuesday, May 25th, at 4:00 pm or 7:00 pm.

Applications are available at the Youth Library reference desk. They must be filled out and signed. Once they are returned, you will be sent a letter stating the times for the orientation sessions. An interview will be scheduled if you have NOT volunteered for SRP before but ALL volunteers must fill out an application and attend an orientation session before they will be scheduled to work.

That's the Ticket!

This ticket entitles one (1) Tempe Public Library Summer Reading Participant entrance to the Reader's Theater "Games"

*This is a special program intended for sixth grade and up.
Younger children will not be allowed.
"Games" will feature excerpts from Junior High materials.
Tuesday June 22, 1993 at 2:00
In the Program Room located in the lower level*

Aluminum Foil Modeling

The simplicity of working with aluminum foil, along with its adaptability provides unlimited possibilities for extending the imagination of youngsters in building their own three-dimensional figures. To do this craft simply take a sheet of foil and model it as you would do with wet sand or clay.

Aluminum Foil Clown

Materials needed:

- Artist's brush
- Aluminum foil
- Paints or markers (if desired)
- Pencil
- Pipe cleaners (if desired)
- Rubber Cement
- Scissors
- String or ribbon (if desired)

Procedure:

1. To construct a clown: wad and roll aluminum foil.
2. With scissors cut up the center to form legs.
3. With colored ribbon or string tie at the ankles, waist, and neck. To form a large collar cut an extra sheet of aluminum foil and rubber-cement around the neck.
4. To form hands, rubber-cement two thicknesses of foil together and cut out hands. With pencil make hole through figure at shoulder line, place pipe cleaner in the hole, and on each end of pipe cleaner attach hands with rubber cement.
5. Using a small artist's brush and paint, or permanent markers, paint features of clown.

Plaster of Paris Pins

Materials needed:

- |   |                           |
|---|---------------------------|
| • Artist's brush                          | • Safety pin              |
| • Crayons and/or markers                  | • Shellac or spray sealer |
| • Knife (optional)                        | • Tempera paints          |
| • Mixing container (paper cup or tin can) | • Water                   |
| • Plaster of Paris                        | • Wax paper               |

Procedure:

1. Pour one-half cup of water into mixing container, slowly add plaster of Paris until water no longer absorbs plaster. Stir until the consistency of whipped cream.
2. Continue making these forms until plaster is consumed. Each form will vary in size and design..
3. Paint with tempera as the forms suggest: animals, birds, or faces.
4. When paint is dry, coat surface with thin coat of white shellac or spray with sealer.

5. When dry, remove from wax paper and with a knife cut a groove in back of plaster form.
6. Set the back of a safety pin in this groove and glue. If you watch carefully, you can stick the back of the safety pin in the plaster as it gets thicker and starts to set, but it does not have the flexibility of the pin in the glue.

Spatter Prints

Materials needed:

- construction paper
- small piece of wire screening
- stencil brush or discarded tooth brush
- tempera paint
- tree or plant leaf

Procedure:

1. Place leaf or leaves (more than one can be used at the same time) flat on a piece of construction paper.
2. Hold piece of wire screening about six inches above leaf and with a small amount of tempera paint on brush paint over screen.
3. As the bristles of the brush snap from wire to wire on screen, small specks of paint will be thrown on exposed portions of the construction paper, forming a leaf design.
4. Remove leaf or leaves and use designed paper as desired. Other designs can be "created" by cutting out form from construction paper. These forms can be used in the place of leaves.

Pinwheels

Materials needed:

- construction paper
- hole punch
- pencil
- ruler
- scissors
- small bead
- straight pins
- 1/2 inch dowel

Procedure:

1. With pencil and ruler, draw a seven-inch square on construction paper. In this square draw two diagonals. Cut out square.
2. Cut from each corner along the diagonal a distance of three inches. Punch a small hole one-half inch in from the edges of each of the right hand angles of the four triangles created by the diagonals.
3. Moving about the square in a clockwise direction, lift the corner of each triangle that has been punched toward the center of the square: insert a straight pin through the four holes.
4. This pin is then forced through the center of the square and a small bead is threaded on the back of the pin. The pin is gently forced into a dowel or stick.

Paper Bag Puppets

Materials needed:

- construction paper
- number two paper bags
- pencil
- rubber cement
- ruler
- scissors
- several sheets of newspaper
- string

Procedure:

1. Wad up several sheets of newspaper and stuff in paper bag until bag is three-quarters full. Draw open ends of bag together and tie with string.
2. To construct the arms, cut four strips of construction paper five-eighths by 18 inches long. Overlap and cement at right angles to each other the ends of two of these strips. Apply a thin coat of rubber cement to each surface to be joined. Permit both surfaces to dry, then bring these surfaces in contact with each other; lightly press the cemented joints.
3. Place joined pieces flat on table. Using the strip that is on the bottom of the overlap, bend at edge of top strip back and over itself and press flat against overlap. Take second strip and bend at edge of first strip back and over itself, and press flat against overlap.
4. Continue with alternate strips until entire length of construction paper is used. Cement last folds of paper together.
5. Construct other arm in same manner.
6. For legs, cut four strips of construction paper one inch wide and 18 inches long. Using two strips of paper for each leg construct the legs in the same manner as the arms.
7. Using construction paper cut out ears, eyes, nose, and mouth, and cement in their proper place on the stuffed paper bag.
8. On each side of the bag cement an arm. Spread out the surplus edges of the top of the bag to form a skirt, and under this skirt cement the two legs. Cut out construction paper hands and feet and cement in their proper positions.
9. Attach thin string to body of puppet behind each ear and/or attach strings to hands and feet.

Carnation Flowers

Materials needed:

- florist or 1/2" masking tape (if desired)
- Kleenex tissues
- pliers (if you use wire)
- powdered tempera
- safety pin (if desired)
- 24-gauge wire (or bobbie pins)

Procedure:

- 1 Fold one tissue in half in the opposite direction to the regular fold lines.
- 2 From one end of folded tissue to the other, make a series of accordion pleats about one-half inch wide. Press these pleats together.
- 3 Over the center place a bobbie pin or a piece of wire that has been bent in the shape of a hairpin. Twist ends together.
- 3 With fingers, tear three-quarters of an inch from each end and spread the ends.
- 4 Separate the top layer of the tissue and bring it up to the center.
- 5 Separate the second layer and bring it up toward the center but not as far as the first layer.
- 6 Separate third and fourth layers but do not bring up fourth layer.
- 7 Spread out a thin layer of DRY tempera powder on paper and gently rotate flower in powder in order to tint edges of tissue. Bobbie pin or wire stem can be taped with florist or masking tape. When taping, a safety pin can be secured to stem in order to secure carnation flower to clothing.

Plaster Sculpture

Materials needed:

- artist's brush
- fine sandpaper
- knife
- paper cup
- plaster of Paris
- shellac
- tempera paints
- water
- 1" paint brush

Procedure:

1. Using a paper cup or half-pint milk container, fill with water and pour into mixing container (tin cans work nicely) and slowly add plaster until water no longer absorbs the plaster; stir with stick.
2. Fill paper cup or half-pint milk container with mixture.
3. When outer surface of container becomes warm, carefully tear container from hardened plaster. Using knife carve desired form.
4. Lightly sandpaper the surface and paint if desired with tempera paints; permit to dry, then shellac, using long brush strokes.
5. Do not brush too much as the colors will run. Exercise a high degree of control over group as the cuttings from the plaster are difficult to remove, even with a scraping tool from floors and tables.

Driftwood

Materials needed:

- knife
- fine sandpaper
- tubes of powdered metallic colors:
  - aluminum
  - copper
  - flat oil paint
  - 1" paint brush
  - green
  - white shellac

Procedure:

1. Secure a piece of driftwood and place in sun to dry out.
2. When dry, scrape all loose particles from surface ( wire brush works good).
3. Lightly sandpaper and apply a very thin coat of white paint. In the recessed areas of the wood apply a thin coat of black paint.
4. For applying both colors, use a stiff brush and do not attempt to completely cover the characteristics of the wood. Using your finger partially blend the white and black paint.
5. While the paint is still tacky, spread a small amount of powdered metallic color on a sheet of paper and dip the end of one finger into this color.
6. Transfer this color to the driftwood. Blend and highlight as desired.
7. Permit paint to dry and apply one coat of white shellac.

Wire and Raffia Figures

Materials needed:

- cutting and slip joint pliers
- raffia or crepe paper
- rubber cement
- scissors
- wire coat hanger

Procedure:

1. Using cutting pliers cut a wire coat hanger in the following places: at each end of the straight bottom piece; one side, at the point where the sides join to form the hook. This cutting results in three pieces of wire.
2. Using piece that has the hook on one end, shape to form the body of giraffe.
3. Cut longest remaining piece of wire in half. Each piece is bent in half and placed in the proper place over the body to form the legs.
4. Make one complete turn of each wire around the body and with the pliers squeeze tightly in place.
5. Using raffia or narrow strips of crepe paper completely wrap each wire. Ends of paper or raffia may be secured in place by rubber cement. In order to provide for additional thickness to appropriate portions of the figure, merely wrap with additional layers of raffia or crepe paper.
6. The mane of the giraffe is constructed by using a 24 inch length of raffia or one-quarter inch strip of crepe paper.
7. Rubber cement one end of strip on top of head and form one-inch high loop. Using second piece of raffia or one-quarter inch crepe paper strip, wrap loop in place. Continue making loops down neck of giraffe until 24-inch length is consumed.
8. Eyes can be cut from appropriately colored raffia or crepe paper and glued in place.

Party Hats

Materials needed:

- compass
- ruler
- pencil
- scissors

Procedure:

1. For a cylindrical hat use a strip of paper to measure the circumference of the youngster's head at the point where the hat is to fit. Add one-half inch to this measurement; determine the height of the hat.
2. On a piece of construction paper lay out the rectangle desired. Assuming the hat is to be 12 inches high and 18 inches in circumference, bring the short ends of the paper together and overlap one-half inch and cement with rubber cement.
3. On one end of the cylinder cut a series of V-cuts to a depth of three quarters of an inch and bend in the tabs toward the center of the cylinder.
4. Measure the diameter of the cylinder and with a compass construct a circle on construction paper. Cut the circle out with scissors and rubber cement to the tabs on top of the hat.
6. Design bill of hat and cut out of construction paper. Cut a series of V's in the bill at the point of attachment to body of hat, and rubber cement the tabs of bill to body of hat. Cement small piece of construction paper over V's of the bill.
7. Paint or decorate as desired.
8. For a cone shaped hat, construct a 15 inch square on construction paper.
9. With a compass, or piece of string attached to a pencil, and using one corner of the square as the center of the arc, construct an arc that intersects the adjacent corners of the square. Cut out with scissors.
10. Using the larger of the two pieces of construction paper, overlap and join with rubber cement the straight sides of the paper. Test the cone for size.
11. Cut in the form of leaves, pieces of construction paper and cement these to the hat.
12. Additional decoration employing tempera paint and construction paper may be used, taking into consideration the intent and purpose of the hat.

Ring Toss

Materials needed:

- cardboard or plywood
(cardboard is more readily available)
- paint
- string

Procedure:

1. Cut the face of a clown or elephant or any critter that can have a long nose out of cardboard or plywood.
(cardboard is more readily available).
2. Paint or color to your desires.
3. Cut the ring out of the same type of material. Make it large enough to go over the nose when tossed and caught on the nose.
4. Attach one end of a three foot string to edge of the ring and end of the nose.

Lantern
Materials needed:

- construction paper, 9" x 12" or
- colorful page from a magazine
- stapler and staples or
- tape
- scissors

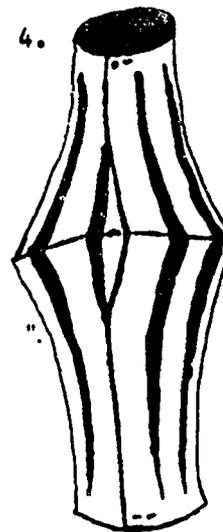

Make cuts from folded edge almost to the open side. Make cuts about 3/4" apart.

Procedure:
Fold this long side over to the other edge.

Unfold paper and roll, overlapping edges. Staple or tape overlapped edges

Cut strip of paper from another sheet about 3/4" by 11". Tape or staple to top edge for handle.

VARIATIONS

- Start with a very small piece of paper.
- Start with a larger piece of paper.
- Make cuts closer together or wider apart.
- Use gift wrap paper.
- fit lantern around a glass or jar to make a vase.
- Make small lanterns from foil gift wrap and hang them on the Christmas tree.

Spiral

Materials needed:

- a square piece of paper
- scissors
- thread ( for mobile)

Procedure:

1. Cut a square piece of paper as shown in one line, going around and around with the scissors. If you like you can draw the line with a pencil first.
2. Make a cut to free the spiral from the square

What you can do with the spiral

Make a mobile by putting a string through the center.

Make a necklace. Put the outer edge of the spiral around your neck and let the center hang down the front.

Make two spirals of different colors and hang them up together. Make sure you can see both of them.

For a beautiful gift, use foil show card or Mylar, which you can buy in an art store.

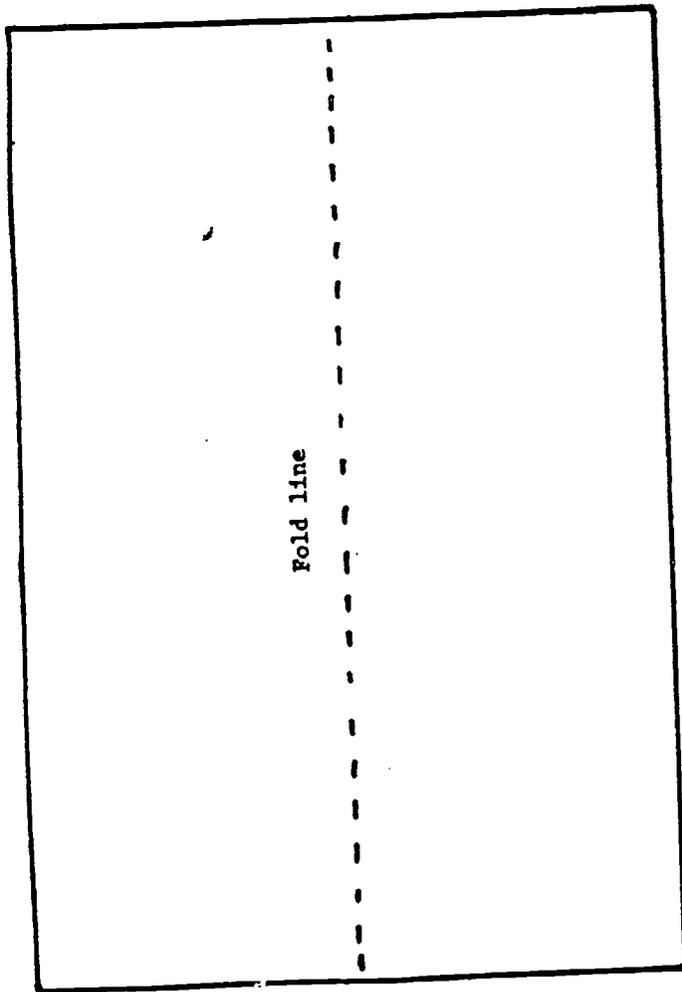

Owl

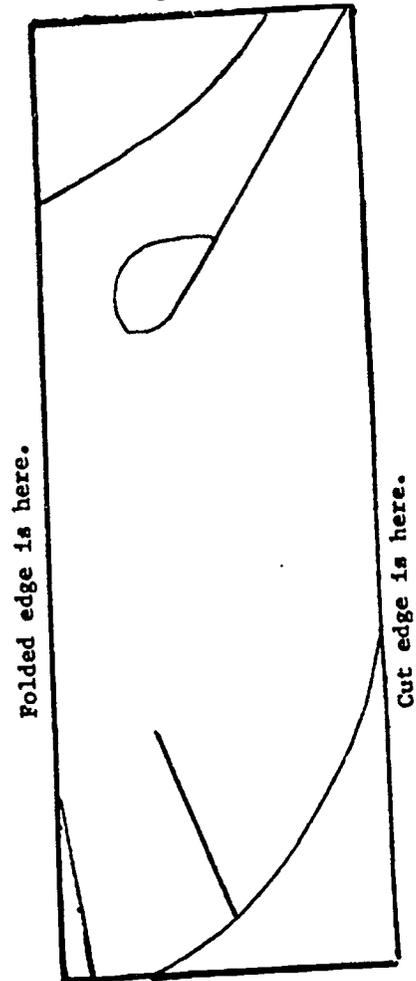

Materials needed:

- strong paper or
- thin cardboard the size of a postcard
- scissors

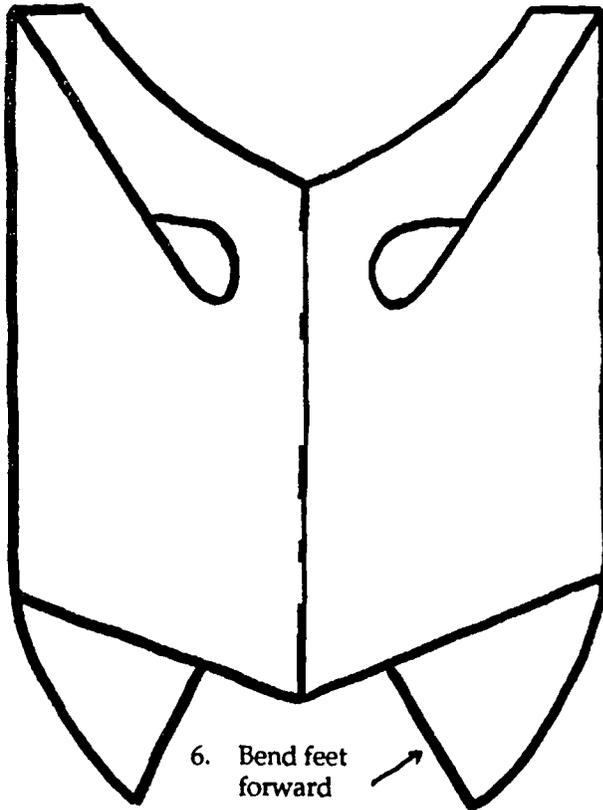

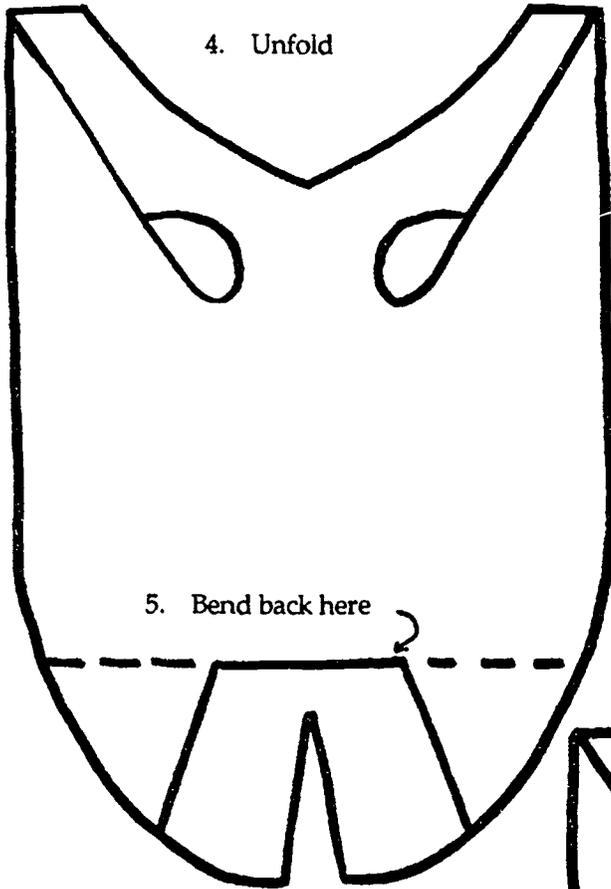

1. Fold in half lengthwise.

2. Draw shape against the folded edge

3. Cut on the lines

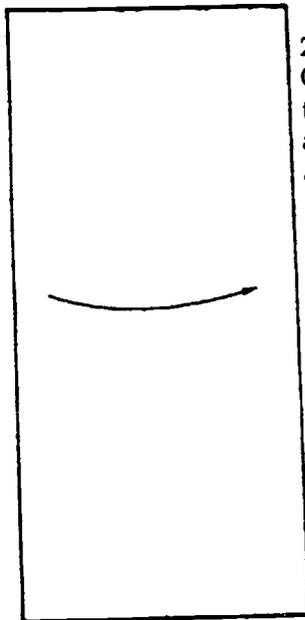

And here is your standup Owl

Stretch Paper<sup>1</sup>

Materials needed:

- a long piece of paper, any pretty color
- scissors

Tissue Flower<sup>2</sup>

1.
Fold the paper in half lengthwise.

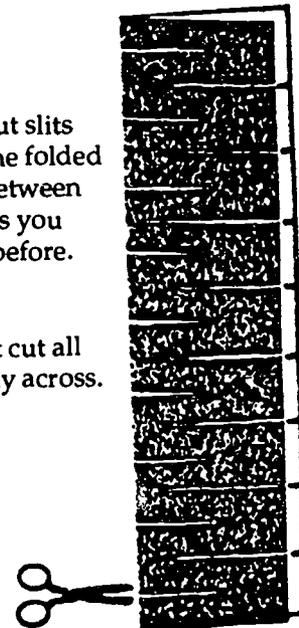

2.
Cut horizontal slits about 3/4" apart.

Do not cut all the way across to the fold.

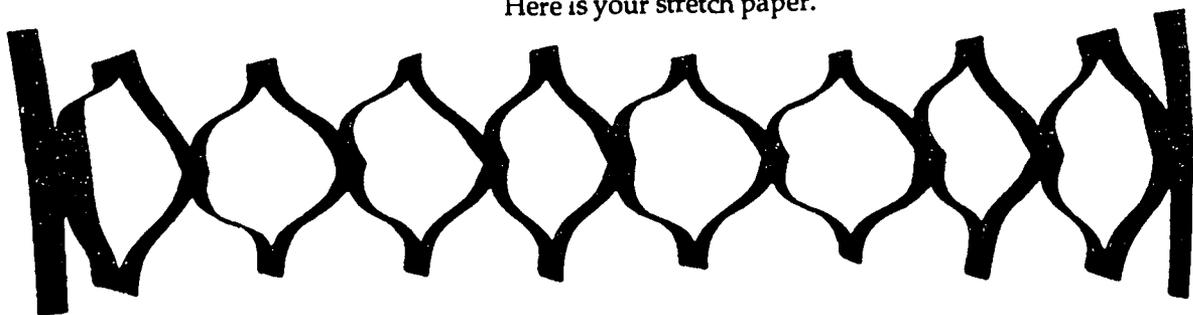

3.
Now cut slits from the folded edge between the cuts you made before.

Do not cut all the way across.

Unfold paper carefully.
Here is your stretch paper.

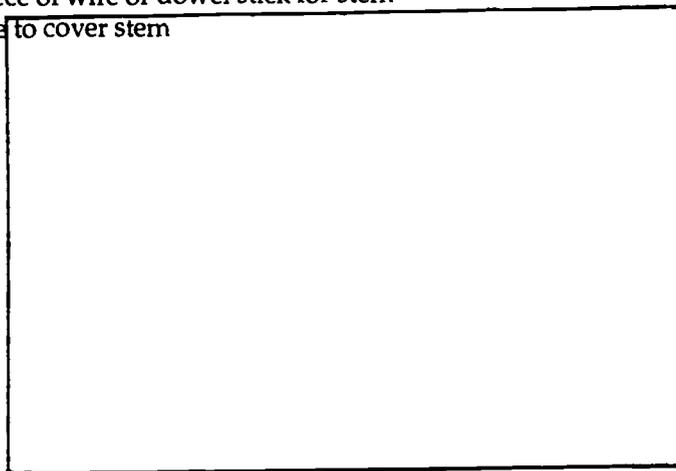

5.
Use stretched paper to make long garlands, or make a Christmas tree decoration (Cellophane tape a small stone to the bottom so that it stays open. Attach string or tree hook to the top)

Materials needed:

- sheet of tissue paper 10" X 30"
- scissors
- stapler and staples
- strong piece of wire or dowel stick for stem
- floral tape to cover stem

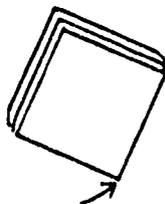

1. Cut tissue paper into six 10" squares

2. Put six squares in a stack

4. and in half again in the other direction, to make a smaller square

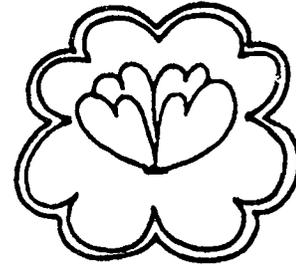

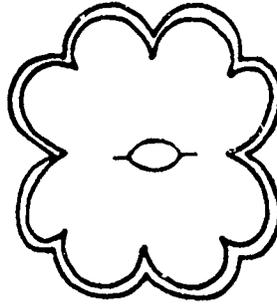

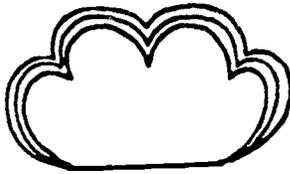

3. Fold them in half,

5. Draw on heart-shaped petals, with the point of the heart located where the tissue square is folded

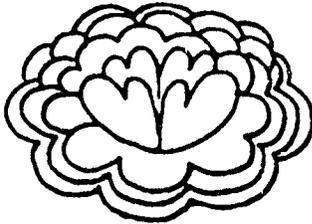

6. Cut out on line, through all layers.

7. Unfold once and staple the center of the folded edge (continued below)

8. You now have a flower of many layers, with a stapled crimp in the middle.

9. Lift up the top layer of paper and make it stand upright by bunching it up and then crunching it near the staple.

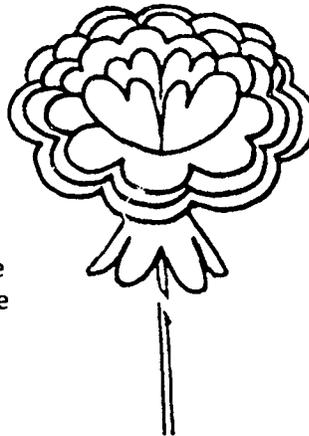

10. Lift up the next layer of and bunch it up around the first layer.

11. Continuer with all layers, giving it a squeeze near staple.

The last layer will not raise up very high, it will be almost flat.

12. Now add a stem, using a piece of strong wire or a dowel stick. Pull the bottom layer of the flower around the stem and tape it securely

SECRET THINGS AND PLACES<sup>3</sup>

"Hidden Compartment" Book

Find an old hardcover book or thick paperback that is at least one inch thick. Make sure it is okay to cut it up! Then cut away a cube section from the middle pages of the book to make a compartment for hiding things. When you close the book, it looks normal! Hide special treasures and secret messages in the book.

Stone Collecting

Search the area for many different kinds of stones and pebbles. Look for stones with unusual colors, shapes, and textures. Take home some stones to start a collection. Read a book about stones and try to collect as many kinds as you can. [See also picture frames. This works in conjunction with one of those.]

Invisible Painting

Cover a piece of white drawing paper with a sheet of heavy waxed paper. Using a dried-up ball-point pen, etch a design, picture, or message onto the waxed paper. Then remove the waxed paper from the drawing paper.

To make your invisible drawing appear on the drawing paper, paint over the entire paper with watercolor paint. Watch the drawing magically appear!

Invisible Writing

Obtain an ink pen with a nib and some lemon juice. Check the pen to make sure the nib is clean. Use the lemon juice as "ink" for writing a secret message. Watch—the message disappears as you write it! To make the message return, simply hold the paper over an electric light bulb!

SEEDS (SCIENCE)

Lima Bean Examination

Soak some lima beans in water and then remove the outer covering of the beans. Pull a bean apart and look at the small plant (embryo) inside. Notice that the rest of the inside part of the bean is actually the food for the embryo!

Lima Bean Grow 'h

Line the inside of a glass jar with blotting paper or a paper towel. Then fill the jar with sand and place some dried lima beans between the paper and the glass. Make sure the sand stays damp. After several days, the beans will sprout!

New crafts to add

PLASTIC CANVAS ORNAMENT

Materials:

- 3 squares plastic canvas (7-10 count)
- 1 set eyes
- yarn - short lengths of scrap yarn will work
- 1 candy kiss or small trinket (Optional)

- Glue gun
- glue stick
- Yarn needle

Work inner portions of squares in half cross or continental stitch (or desired stitch).

HALF CROSS STITCH

Step 1: Leaving a short length of yarn in back of the canvas, bring needle up at 1 and down at 2. Working over the end of the yarn, bring the needle up at 3, down at 4. Continue across the canvas. On the back, pass the needle under three or four stitches. Cut yarn.

Step 2: Repeat step one until canvas is filled, leaving border unworked.

NOTE: Never knot yarn in cross stitch.

Step 1

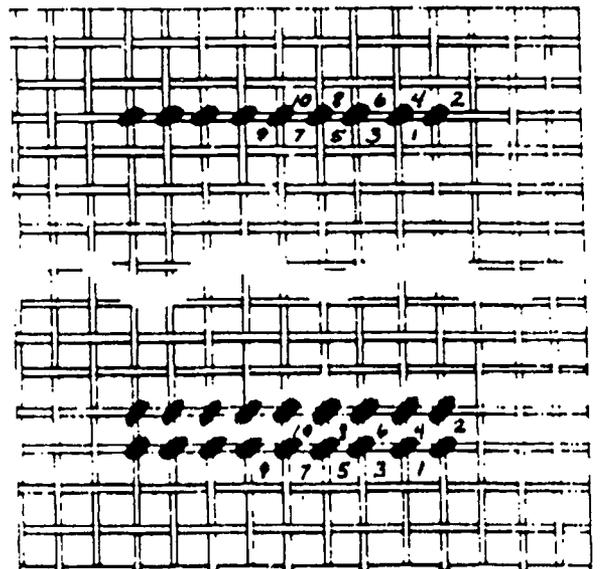

Step 2

CONTINENTAL STITCH

This stitch is worked in rows across the canvas beginning at the top right corner. Work the first row in the numbered sequence shown by Step 1. When the end of the row is reached, turn the canvas completely around. The top is now the bottom. Work the next row as in Step 2.

The continental stitch uses about twice as much yarn as the half cross stitch as it places as much yarn on the back as on the front of the canvas.

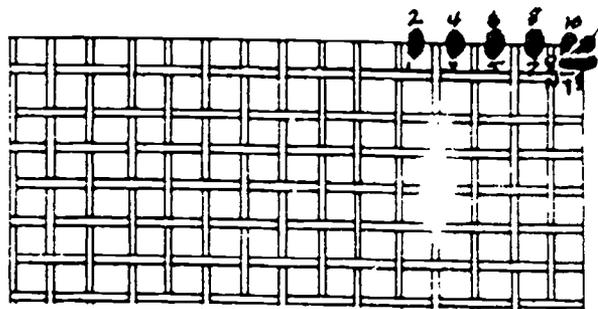

Step 1

Step 2

WHIP OR OVERCAST STITCH

This stitch covers the edge of the canvas. It may be necessary to go through the same hole more than once to get an even coverage on the edge, especially at the corners.

Step 1: Attach two squares, side A to side A and side B to side B with whip stitch. Be sure insides face together.

Step 2: Insides facing, attach third square to square 1, side C to side C and side D to side D with the whip stitch.

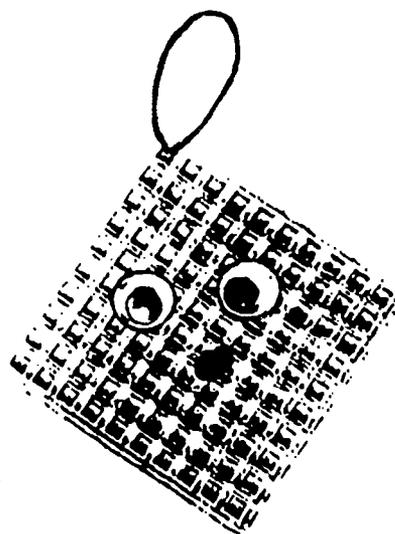

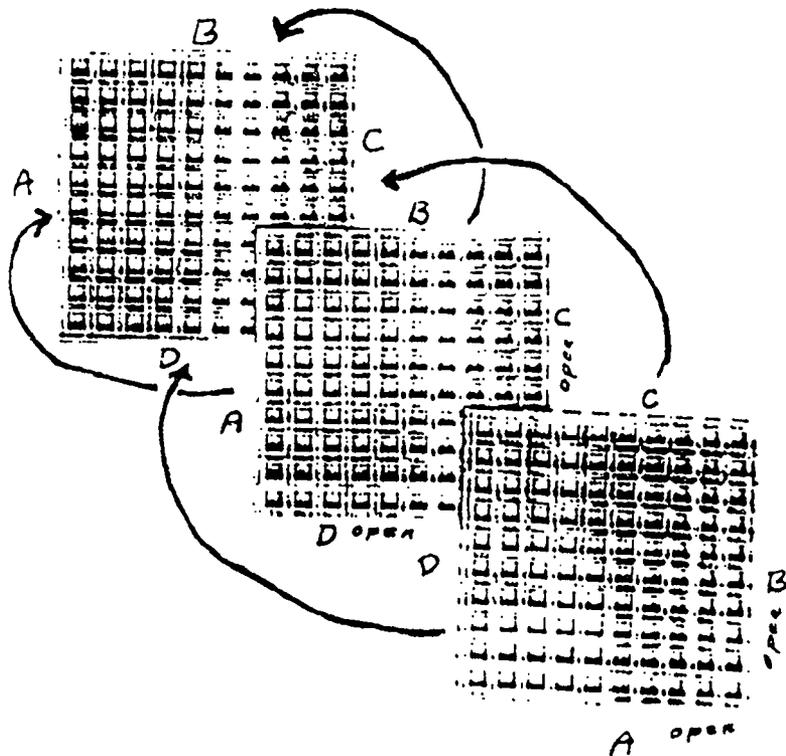

Step 3: With whip stitch, cover side C and side D of square 2 and side A and side B of square 3.

Step 4: Attach eyes with glue gun.

Step 5: Attach a small piece of yarn for nose (if desired).

Step 6: Attach loop of yarn to top for hanger.

Step 7: Insert candy kiss in mouth. (Squeeze corners of mouth to open it).

DETECTIVE HAT

MATERIALS

medium-size paper grocery bag
Cut

12" piece of ribbon or yarn flat

scissors

Hole punch

PROCEDURE

1. Measure up 4 1/2" from the bottom of the bag.
up each side-fold line to the measured point
2. Crease hinges and lay bag out with side sections
(Fig. B).
3. Measure 5" out from hinge on both wide side sections. Cut and round edges. Leave narrow sides long, and round edges (Fig. C).
4. Punch a hole in each narrow end and bring both sides up over top of hat. Tie with ribbon or yarn
(Fig. D).
5. Decorate as desired.

IDEAS

Anyone can come up with a bulletin board or display for this year's theme. The theme lends itself to so many topics: mysteries, secrets, exploring, shadows, ghosts, treasure, detectives, super sleuths, casseroles. how do you utilize displays to carry through on the theme? Not only can bulletin boards show it off, but also wall hangings, mobiles, life-sized figures (mascots), window decorations, kites, props, etc.

The poster itself will provide wonderful ideas and the figures could be used individually as focal points for bulletin boards. They will make great mobiles and window displays. Just keep in mind that you want the library to look exciting and interesting. (Unfortunately, we must complete!) Following are some of our ideas. And we know you will be able to come up with more of your own.

DISPLAY and BULLETIN BOARD HINT:

Remember to make them as appealing as possible. The use of three-dimensional materials will be eye-catching. For instance, the use of disguises such as mustaches, beards, eye-glasses, eye patches, might be one way to dress up your bulletin board. Other props might include detective hats, magnifying glasses, a Clue game, flashlight, notepad and pencil, even dusting powder for dusting fingerprints, and of course, footprints, hand prints, animal tracks and finger prints.

BULLETIN BOARDS

- 1) Some of our ideas are pretty basic. At the top of the bulletin board in big letters attach the words, Get a Clue at the Library. Use book jackets from different mystery novels and have each one personified with a prop of appropriate kind. (See sample).
- 2) A giant word search makes a great display. You can highlight the words GET A CLUE in the midst of mixed letters, or use GET A CLUE in the whole word search and highlight just one of them (See sample.) For each book, read, a participant gets a letter to add to the word search. When added, the letter must be in order, to spell out GET A CLUE.
- 3) Similar to number 1, use Get a Clue at the Library with different pictures of samples of various media available in the library. Ex: book, newspaper, video, magazine, audio-cassette, puzzle, etc.

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY

- 4) Other bulletin boards can be built upon the magnifying glass theme. Be a (nature, dinosaur, star, library, - you fill in the blank!) Detective, is one idea. Here is a sample layout of Be A Dinosaur Detective, using the magnifying glass theme. (Included are reproducible dinosaur figures and animal tracks for the bulletin board; and instructions for making the magnifying glass;

Besides Be a Dinosaur Detective, many other bulletin boards could be built on this theme: Be a Nature Detective, Be a star Detective, Be a Library Detective. You fill in the subject!

Some activity sheets which are related to these themes are:

Be a Book Detective	(2 checklist games)
Library Treasure Hunt	(Checklist)
Library Treasure Hunt	(map maze)
Be an Animal Detective	(matching game)

Look for them in the activity section of your manual.

MAGNIFYING GLASS DISPLAY

On two pieces of medium weight cardboard draw a 24 inch circle with a 12 inch handle attached. Cut around the outside shape and then cut another circle 2 inches inside the larger circle. One terrific way to cut these would be with an electric carving knife. When you have the two shapes cut out, paint with color of your choice.

Mylar makes really good "glass". Stick some to each half of the magnifying glass on the inside and you will find it easy to keep the "specimens" in place. You can stick the two halves together with bits of plasti-tak or something similar for ease of handling, then staple to your bulletin board. Another method of display would be to punch a hole in the frame and suspend it from a hook.

- 5.) Whooo Durnnit? is a bulletin board layout which can be coordinated with detective activities for young sleuths. The feathers on the bulletin board ask questions about books, authors, characters. You may want to change the questions weekly and give out prizes to inquisitive detectives who find the correct answers.

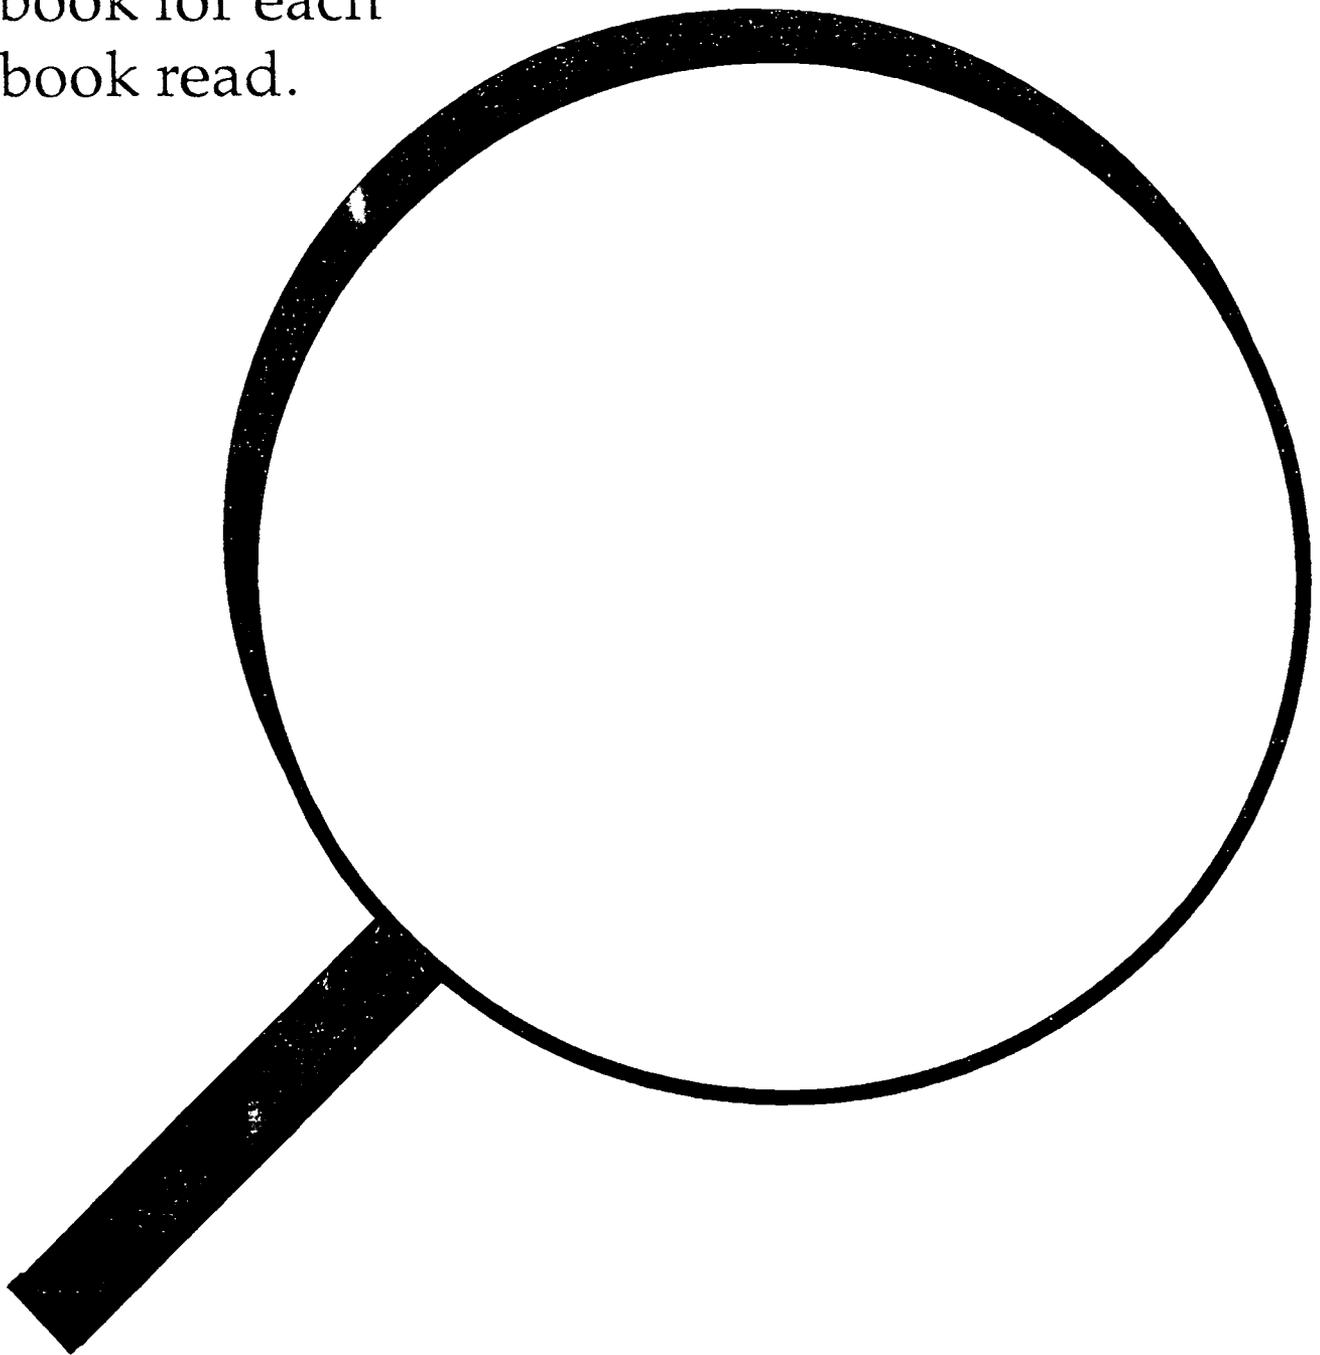

Reproducible patterns for this bulletin board follow.

- 6.) Pam Jackson of the Bagdad Public Library already has her bulletin board planned for this theme. She will make a giant magnifying glass and for each book read a child will stamp his/her thumbprint on the "glass". So simple, yet so appropriate!
- 7.) Secrets and secret messages come to mind when thinking of the theme. How about a bulletin board with We're Full of Secrets. Then display jacket covers from titles with the word secret in them.

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY

Put a thumbprint or book for each book read.

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY

Put a thumbprint for each book read.

- 8.) Here's another idea for We're Full of Secrets. Using a very large detective's hat on the bulletin board, have each child make a miniature book cover of the mysteries they read. (See sample.)

- 9.) It's amazing that Encyclopedia Brown is still popular after so many years. His picture would make an excellent life-sized figure for the bulletin board. You might say "Encyclopedia Brown says, 'Get a Clue at the Library'"
- 10.) At the beginning of the program, give each child a code name. Then do a bulletin board for this theme: Encyclopedia Brown—The Case of the Mysterious Hand prints. Each time a child reads a book, they make a hand print (unless the prints can be pre-made), and put their code name on it. (See sample).

- 11.) Now to stray from the main theme a little. We like the idea of a more informative bulletin board. Be a Supersleuth—Find it in the Library could be used with different pictures of helpful library tools such as a card catalog, dictionary, a computer with a CD program (Phone book on CD, etc.), a magazine or periodical, a microfiche sheet, etc. You can probably think of more ideas. (See sample.)

12. Using the theme, Be a Book Detective—Read!, do a jacket display on the bulletin board with different book titles.
13. Other bulletin board themes

DISPLAYS

- 1) Adopt encyclopedia Brown (or Sherlock Holmes) as a mascot. Do a standup cutout of him and dress him like a detective with real clothes, and a detective's hat. You might even have each child make a face of himself and have a drawing of names each program day or week to choose the face that goes on the detective's body.
- 2) Use the theme, Be a _____ Detective. Then fill in the blank with words such as star, flower, tree, insect, book, etc. Do a book display with books on that particular topic.
- 3) Display the words BE A BOOK DETECTIVE with pictures related to the various types of genres and subject areas available to read in the library (ie. mystery, science fiction, fairy tales, sports, adventure, humor). Add the words "Can your find one of each of the following types of books in our collection."

SPECIAL NEEDS CHILDREN AND THE ARIZONA READING PROGRAM

Involving Visually and Physically Handicapped Children in the Arizona Reading Program

In recent years, visually and physically handicapped children have participated in the statewide Arizona Reading Program. Visually impaired or physically handicapped children in your community may want to participate in the local Summer Reading Program along with their peers. This can be accomplished by using talking Braille books instead of print and with some assistance from the library staff.

There are a few simple things you can do to help make visually impaired children more comfortable in your library. Identify yourself and others who may be with you when you greet someone with a visual impairment. Let the person know what you are doing and where you are going. Ask if the person needs assistance getting around the library and let the person take your arm, which allows you to be the guide.

With a little help, visually impaired, blind, or handicapped children can participate in much of regular library programming. Visually impaired children can enjoy story hours along with their peers with a minimum of special effort by the storyteller. It is most important to select the story carefully so that understanding the text is not dependent upon illustrations which cannot be easily explained. You do not need to avoid such words as "see, look, read." If the child can't see gestures or facial expressions, try to include objects and tactile experiences. The storyteller can use hearing, touch, tasting, smelling, imagination, and emotions to encourage the listeners' interest. Depending upon the story line or narration, visually impaired children can also enjoy films or video if they are introduced and given explanation when needed. Many children's books are printed in larger than normal print, and children who read large print may be able to enjoy summer reading with some guidance toward these books. If you are unsure about a child's skills and ability to participate, discuss it with the child and/or the parents.

Through publicity and local encouragement, we hope to extend summer reading activities to larger numbers of visually and physically handicapped children and to support participation by visually and physically handicapped children in their local library's summer reading program, by using talking and Braille books.

Talking Book/Braille Service Overview

What is available?

Talking books, Braille books, and catalogs of titles; talking books are complete books recorded on cassettes or records. They are circulated throughout the state by the Arizona State Braille and Talking Book Library in cooperation with the National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped (NLS), a division of the Library of Congress.

The book collection is much like that of a public library; books are selected to appeal to a wide range of reading interests. Registered borrowers receive large print catalogs and the bimonthly Talking Book Topics or Braille Book Review to use in selecting books they wish to read. A separate set of catalogs list books for children.

It is necessary to use the NLS playback equipment because the books are recorded at a slower speed not generally available on commercial equipment. Record and cassette players are loaned free of charge as long as library materials are being used.

Accessories for the equipment which are available for loan include: extension levers for the cassette player; special amplifier for use with headphones for hearing impaired persons; remote control unit; and solar battery charger.

There is no charge for any of the materials. Books and equipment are mailed to the reader and back to the library postage free.

Who is eligible?

Anyone unable to read conventional print, hold a book, or turn pages due to a physical limitation is eligible. This includes blind children, children whose visual disability prevents the reading of standard print material, physically handicapped children unable to handle standard print material, and children having a reading disability resulting from an organic dysfunction of sufficient severity to prevent their reading of printed material in a normal manner.

In cases of blindness, visual disability, or physical limitations, the disability may be certified and the application signed by doctors of medicine or osteopathy, ophthalmologists, optometrists, registered nurses, therapists and the professional staff of hospitals, institutions, and public or welfare agencies, or a professional librarian. In the case of reading disability from organic dysfunction, the application must be signed by a doctor of medicine or osteopathy, who may consult with colleagues in associated disciplines (such as school psychologists or learning disability teachers).

For more information about eligibility and certification, contact the Arizona State Braille and Talking Book Library at 255-5578; outside the Phoenix area, call 1-800-255-5578.

How does the service begin:

Obtain and complete an application form; eligibility must be certified before equipment can be loaned. Return the completed application to the Library. Equipment is sent to eligible patrons, and a readers' advisor contacts each new patron to begin service, discuss reading interests, etc.

Patrons may submit request lists; or, staff will select books for patrons in the subject areas they designate. When one book is returned to the library, another is sent. They may always increase or decrease the number of books sent, place a "hold" on service temporarily, or modify their reading interest list.

GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY – DINOSAUR CLUES

1. MY NAME MEANS "THREE – HORN."
2. MY BRAIN WAS THE SIZE OF A PEA.
3. I AM THE LARGEST FLESH EATING DINOSAUR.
4. MY NAME MEANS "SPIKED LIZARD."
5. I BREATHE WITH THE CREST GROWING BETWEEN MY EYES.
6. I WAS THE FIRST DINOSAUR TO BE DISCOVERED IN THE UNITED STATES.
7. MY NAME MEANS "THUNDER LIZARD."
8. I WAS THE FASTEST MOVING REPTILE OF MY TIME.

STYRACOSAURUS - "SPIKED LIZARD"

LOCATION: North America

HABITAT: Land

DIET: Herbivorous - plant eater

SIZE: 15 feet long

Styracosaurus had more horns than any other horned dinosaur. He had a wide body covered by a thick tough hide. He had one bony horn standing straight up above his nose and a beak that curved into a hook. His rear legs were longer than his front legs and his tail was thick and strong.

TRACHODON - "DUCK-BILLED DINOSAUR"

LOCATION: North America

HABITAT: Land, water

DIET: Herbivorous - plant eater

SIZE: 40 feet long,, weighed 6-8 tons

Trachodon was the first dinosaur to be discovered in the United States. He usually walked on his two hind legs which were very strong and large and ended in web-like toes. Trachodon had approximately two thousand teeth set in four rows, but the front of his mouth was toothless. He was one of the fastest of the swimming dinosaurs.

CORYTHOSAURUS - "HELMET LIZARD"

LOCATION: North America

HABITAT: Land, water

DIET: Herbivorous - plant eater

SIZE: 26 feet long, weighed 3-8 tons

Corythosaurus had a strange way of breathing. He had a big rounded crest growing straight up between his eyes. In this crest were his nasal passages with air storage chambers. The chambers allowed him to breath underwater for a long time.

TRICERATOPS - "THREE-HORN"

LOCATION: North America, Asia

HABITAT: Land

DIET: Herbivorous - plant eater

SIZE: 20-30 feet long, 18 feet high

The most outstanding feature of Triceratops was its horns. One short horn grew up from the top of his nose. He also had 2 large horns, one above each eye. The sharp horns and a strong, muscular neck were his first defense against enemies.

TYRANNOSAURUS – "TYRANT LIZARD"

LOCATION: North America

HABITAT: Land

DIET: Carnivorous – meat eater

SIZE: 20 feet tall, 40-50 feet long, weighed up to 40 tons

Tyrannosaurus was the largest flesh eating dinosaur. He walked on his huge, strong hind legs and had tiny, weak front legs. His jaws were about 4 feet long and could open very wide. His strong, sharp teeth were each 6 inches long.

BRONTOSAURUS – "THUNDER LIZARD"

LOCATION: Wyoming, Colorado

HABITAT: Land, water

DIET: Herbivorous – plant eater

SIZE: 10-17 feet high, weighed 30-40 tons

Brontosaurus was the largest of all extinct animals. He was not a "fighter." His legs looked like four very old, squat tree trunks holding up a very short, bulky body. He had a very long neck, a very tiny head and a long, heavy tail. He lived near the water for safety. Because he was so big, he could move faster in the water and hide from his enemies in the deep water.

STEGOSAURUS – "COVER LIZARD"

LOCATION: East Africa, Europe, North America

HABITAT: Land

DIET: Herbivorous – plant eater

SIZE: 20 feet long

Stegosaurus was one of the first dinosaurs to become extinct. The top of his body was covered with armor that looked like two rows of triangles. Stegosaurus was very dull-witted. His brain was the size of a pea. One half controlled his eating and the other half, near his tail, controlled his legs and tail.

DIMETRODON – "DOUBLE-TEETH"

HABITAT: Land

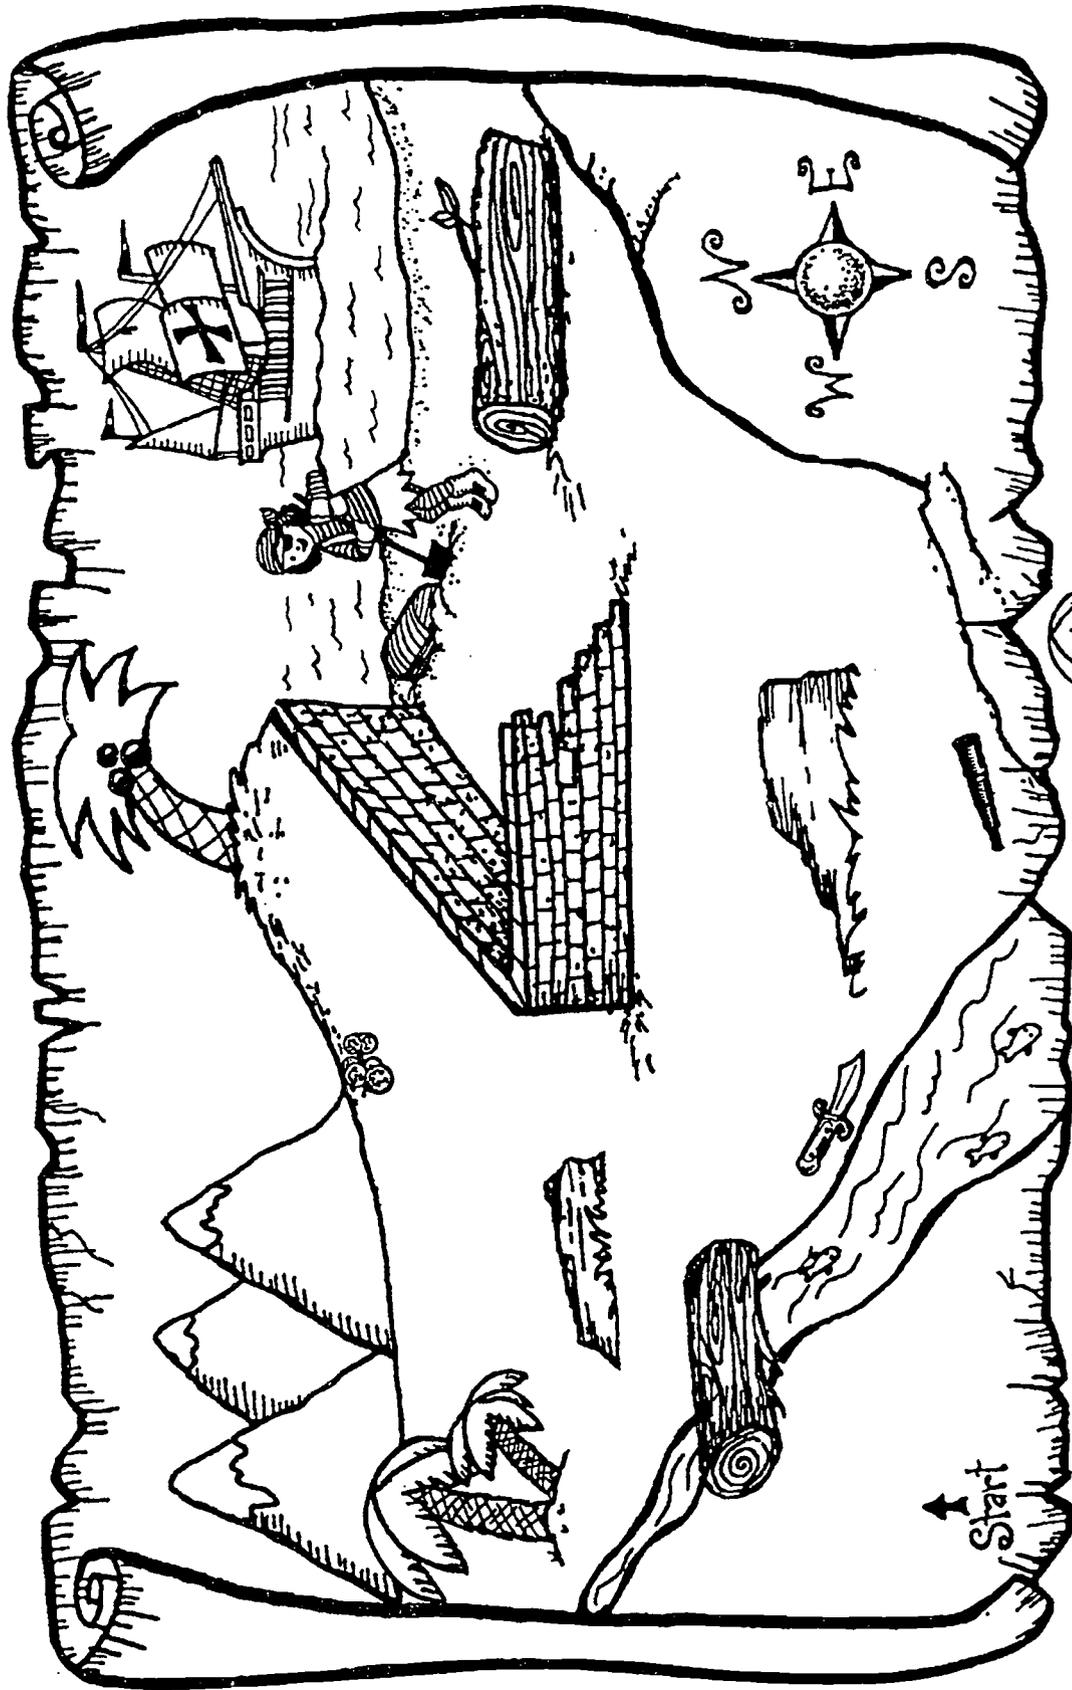

DIET: Carnivorous – meat eater

SIZE: 6-10 feet long

Dimetrodon was the fastest moving reptile of its time. He had a large head and huge jaws lined with sharp, pointed teeth. Dimetrodon had long spines, like sails, rising 2-3 feet above his backbone. The spines were covered with a webbing of skin thought to have protected him from heat and cold.

1994 ARIZONA READING PROGRAM
GET A CLUE AT THE LIBRARY

EVALUATION/QUESTIONNAIRE

Your statistics are vital! Please respond to this survey by September 20, 1994.

The annual budget for the Arizona Reading Program is greatly affected by the numbers of children served. Let us know how many Arizona children benefit from your library program.

The evaluation pinpoints the areas where the program may be refined and improved in the future. Your input is invaluable.

The form has been changed and simplified this year. There are just a few vital statistics we are asking you to record, in the left hand column (column 1). Column 2 and page 3 are optional. We would love to have your comments in these areas if you have the time.

The statistical information gathered will be compiled and reported back to children's service librarians throughout the state. We hope the information will be used for comparative purposes, to justify budget requests, to evaluate the effectiveness of current programs, and to plan for future programs, as proposed by Dr. Virginia Walter; in Output Measures for Public Library Services to Children.

ARIZONA READING PROGRAM EVALUATION

Please help us evaluate the 1994 Arizona Reading Program (ARP).

Please photocopy and complete the form. Return it to Jan Elliott at the Department of Library, Archives and Public Records, Library Extension Division, 1700 W. Washington Avenue, Phoenix, Arizona 85007 no later than September 20, 1994.

Thank you for your cooperation!
